Easter Film to Be Shown

In keeping with the spirit of the season this year, an Easter film will be shown Friday evening, March 30, in the Fine Arts Auditorium.

This will be an interesting film, so don't miss it!

The Lily

A school teacher was not successful in getting her third grade pupils to wash their dirty hands. She had been faithful by precept and example, but it was not entirely successful. She decided to try another method.

One day she told the children that she wanted them to see a flower before they could have their lunch. The flower was a beautiful white Easter lily. The children were to point out and name the different parts of the lily. She cautioned them to point their finger at the parts of the flower, but not to touch it. The children were in single file and when one would finish, he would go past the lavatory toward the lunch room.

Without exception, each one stopped voluntarily to wash.

It is evident that the children saw their dirty hands contrasted with the snow-white petals of the flower and were impelled by the desire to have clean hands.

Jesus has been compared to the lily. The Bible teaches that only he who has clean hands and a pure heart can see God. It is my hope that this Easter season will result in people all over the world becoming aware of the contrast between the life and spirit of Jesus and our lives and spirit.

May I see Jesus high and lifted up and may I be willing to cry "Unclean, unclean; Oh! make me clean; Oh! make me clean."

—Dr. A. B. Mackey

Printers Start Work on New Darda Manuscript

Darda editor, Ruth Johnson breathed a sigh of relief, along with other staff members, as last bits of manuscript and other odds and ends were finally packed and sent off to the Benson Printing Company last week.

Ruth, ably assisted by her co-editor Norma Jean Peters, has done an excellent job, and Trevecca students can look forward to one of the best Dardas ever published.

Miss Johnson complimented her staff for the wonderful way in which they have co-operated.

High School Seniors Present "Tom Sawyer"

Many compliments were given to the High School Senior Class for their successful presentation of the classic comedy, "The Adventures of Tom Sawyer" on March 23.

Who didn't enjoy being lost in adventure with Tom and his best friend Huck, or who wasn't pleased when Tom became engaged to his "adored one," Becky Thatcher?

We wish to thank the high school senior class for the many hours of hard work they spent to give us an evening of entertainment.

Class Visits Papers; Guided by Treveccan

The Journalism class visited the printing plant and offices of the Banner and Tennessean newspapers last week.

Some of the departments visited were: city room, photo engraving, composing, advertising, teletype, press room, Associated Press, United Press, Wire Photo, and stereotyping.

They found that normally the press out-put for week-days is about 40,000 papers per hour. This is increased to around 48,000 an hour for Saturday night.

The guide for the tour was Jack Phillips, a Trevecca student who is employed by the Tennessean.

This Only Have I Learned

"This only have I learned; that God,

In love beyond degree,
 In Jesus has all treasures hid
 Of His infinity.

"For darkness, light; for coldness,
 warmth;

For sorrow, joy He brings;
 His life infuses all my life;
 My heart with rapture sings;
 "From all my soul and mind and strength

A tide of love returns
 To Him whose holy scared flame
 Within my heart now burns."

—Paul Hendon

Regularity Is Essential

Regularity is not only essential to good physical health, but also to good mental and spiritual health as well.

Our body demands nourishment at regular intervals. If food is withheld, resistance weakens, and finally dies.

To deprive ourselves of spiritual food causes our soul to become lean, and the leaner our soul becomes the less appetite for spiritual food there is. And just as surely as our physical body will die without food; so our spiritual body will die without spiritual food.

Students come to college to feed their mind. Without mental food our mind deteriorates. Our money is paid to receive instruction which feeds the mind. To skip class not only cuts off the intake of mental food but causes

THE MESSAGE OF THE OPEN TOMB

"If thou shalt confess with thy mouth the Lord Jesus, and shalt believe in thine heart that God hath raised him from the dead thou shalt be saved." Roman 10:9.

The message of Easter is the message of the Resurrection, the Resurrection of Christ, which is the guarantee of a future resurrection unto glory to all who believe.

The story of the open tomb is more than an historical fact to be accepted mentally; more than a doctrine to be grasped and assented to by the intellect. It is a fact of time and eternity on the basis of which along with the Atonement, the salvation or damnation of every individual depends. It is the greatest drama ever written, the greatest event ever enacted, the greatest story ever told.

Christ died and rose again. He arose triumphant over death, hell, sin, and the grave. Sin could nail His body to the Cross, but it could not chain His spirit to the tomb. The dust beneath the Cross could claim drops of His precious Blood, but it could not lay hold on His Life and Power Divine. The grave could swallow up His body for three days and nights, as the whale did Jonah but—thank God!—at the uttered word of the omnipotent Father the grave had to give up the Saviour's body to be reunited with His Eternal Spirit and glorified!

Yes, Christ arose! Christ arose! Hallelujah! Christ arose! He grappled and broke the grips of death, grasped the seal of the grave and ripped it apart, stepped out on the stairway of the sepulchral stone, mounted the chariot of a fleecy white cloud, and with cherubs and seraphs as His companions, ascended to the regions of highest glory! He sat down at the right hand of the Father and is there engaged in intercession for us. Someday He is coming again.

Are you ready to meet Him?

—Paul Hendon

Spring Is Here!

There was a time when one could tell when spring had arrived, by a young man's fancy lightly turning to love; but not so anymore on Trevecca Campus, for the love bug seems to be at work in all sorts of weather. Love is no respecter of seasons when it comes to college.

So, when looking for signs of spring one must take note of that which has more stability. For instance, the return of robin red-breast from its South-land home, or the little jonquil peering hopefully out into the face of the warm soft sun to scatter its golden petals on the bosom of Mother Earth, while the daffodils strain every effort to push their pretty heads above the winter's crust. The forsythia, eager to see the awakening which is apparent, hastens forth at the first faint opportunity, knowing full well that its hopes may be premature.

Spring has been so long anticipated, in contrast to the long, cold winter, that any sign regardless of how faint, stirs the soul, and fills the atmosphere with the breath of spring.

Spring is in the air!

a state of frustration that hinders future progress.

Regularity and punctuality are also marks of a good Christian character.

Let's Keep Studying!

The Spring quarter was ushered in amid much anticipation after a brief calm following the winter quarter exams. The examinations are over now. Sleepless nights and nervous headaches have passed for another twelve weeks.

These warm, balmy spring days, after the chill of the winter exams, may not be conducive to rigid study, but we should remember that twelve weeks will soon be gone and examination time will be here again.

It is better to take the "long view" in such matters!

Thou Loving Lord

"Thou loving Lord, beneath whose feet

Blue waves of Galilee did roll
 Command Thou my life's troubled sea

Bear up my sinking soul.

"I love Thee, Lord; I know that Thou

Canst save—and Thou alone;

I trust Thy Blood, poured out for me

My sin now to atone.

"I rise to walk with heart made pure

On life's tempestuous sea;

I know that there is nought to fear,

Since Thou doest go with me."

—Paul Hendon

MONDAY, MARCH 5

Our president, Dr. Mackey gave to us in his own inspiring fashion, his personal testimony. He told us that the prayers and faithfulness of his sanctified mother instilled in him at a very early age a fear of grieving God.

TUESDAY, MARCH 6

One of our senior ministerial students, Paul Schurman, preached a timely message from the book of Luke. If we would see unredeemed men and women through the eyes of Jesus, then we must live close to the Master Himself. It is dangerous to follow the Lord afar.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 7

We were privileged to hear Dr. L. T. Wells preach a topical sermon on "Apples: Five Cents Apiece or Six for a Nickel." He reminded us that the quality of a tree is discernible by the fruit it bears.

THURSDAY, MARCH 8

Dr. John R. Church, in the annual John T. Benson lecture series, gave us one of the finest messages we have ever heard on "The All-Sufficiency of Christ." Dr. Church caused us to see that holiness is not an "either-or" but a "both-and" proposition; that is, it is both imputed and imparted.

FRIDAY, MARCH 9

Dr. Church spoke from Luke 1:74-75. Sanctification is the rightful heritage of all who have been justified. IT IS ON DEPOSIT for us. If we have our "Birth certificate", we should put in immediate application for this second grace that takes away our bent to sinning.

MONDAY, MARCH 12

After a number of spontaneous testimonies Dr. Mackey spoke briefly on, "Can one Believe a Lie and be Damned?"

TUESDAY, MARCH 13

"Aarons in the Camp" was the admonishing message of student speaker Bill Crane on Tuesday. Let us strive to be the kind of leader Moses was, instead of a time-serving, compromising Aaron.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 14

Professor Phillips spoke on, "Transformed Lives through the Transfiguring Christ." By looking to Jesus as our example we become more and more like Him.

Social Ledger Leaves

Whoosh! ! ! Did someone say it was spring? ? ? Mr. North wind has been blowing all over the place today. However the calendar says that Miss Spring has arrived in all her beauty—"slightly frosted." Many things happen in the springtime including the changing of boys' dispositions, for it's said, "In the springtime a young man's fancy lightly turns to love."

As a result of this, T. N. C.'s social life is soaring upward. One of the big social highlights of the past few weeks was Larry Finger's voice recital. His beautiful rendition of Irish love songs caused several young lassies' eyes to turn dreamy. Citing a few examples—Irene Godby toward Howard Spruill; and Jeanette Griffin toward Bill Ring.

The annual Basketball tournament proved quite successful this year. Cheering on the sidelines for the Sophomores I noticed Jan Penix and Mack Williams, who seems to be around campus a lot lately. Like I said, "it's spring!"

Carol Poling really seemed to like the decorations at the gym. She got quite carried away, or perhaps I should say, "tried to carry them away." You look very attractive in purple and white crepe paper, Carol!

T. N. C. had a lot of visitors this week from Mississippi. We certainly enjoyed having them and I'm sure everyone wants them to come again. Some were extra enthusiastic. In fact, Wesley Eby said, "If she doesn't come back, I'm moving to Jackson! !"

Hurray! Exams are over once more. Gwen Pearson had her shingle out as counselor to retarded students. But after the Humanities exam was over she turned in her credentials.

Ask Lib Stucki why? ?

Brrr! Here comes that "mild" spring breeze again. I must run to the fire. See you next time. Watch for your name on one of the "Falling Leaves! !"

The first quarter of the basketball tournament championship game Saturday night saw a battle royal between the high-flying Upperclassmen and the determined High Schoolers.

The score was 12-12 at the end of the first eight minutes, but the crowd, the largest turn-out for any athletic contest this year, saw the Upperclassmen run away with the championship as the game progressed.

The balanced UPC scoring attack was headed by Larry Finger with 17, Godby and Evans with 15, and Strickland with 14. Paul Shurman made 6 points.

Foyce Spruill shared the scoring limelight with Finger as he also netted 17. Hampton and Galloway got 9 and 7, respectively.

At half time, Harold Hughes, M. A. A. president introduced Nina Griggs, G. A. A. president, who presented a trophy to the Freshmen, girls' champions, and introduced the team.

Dr. Adams announced the All-Stars and gave the championship trophy to Harry Evans, UPC captain.
