Dedication

For your welcome smile,
For your friendliness and sincerity,
For your well-timed words of encouragement,
For your choice bits of wit and humor, and most of all,
For your inspiring spirit of Christian leadership,
All of which emanate from Him Who is the Power of your lives,
For these we want to honor you. As a token of our gratitude,
We lovingly dedicate the 1956 OASIS to you,

MR. AND MRS. L. WESLEY JOHNSON

Into the

F o r e w o r d

This is an age of high-powered automobiles, faster-than-sound jet-propelled airplanes, and high-flying guided missiles that could spell destruction for a whole country at one blast; an age when men put their faith in science and the scientific method, and deny the existence of the realms of religion and metaphysics. Heads of states seek to invent faster and more powerful weapons of destruction in order that they might conquer the world. Men have put their trust in material power that will not satisfy the deep strivings of the human soul for peace with God.

Weapons and machines that appear powerful and forceful to man, however, appear to be only playthings in the eyes of God. For the Maker of the universe is the Omnipotent Being that measures the worth of a soul to be more than the worth of an entire world. Men should realize this fact and redirect their thinking to things of God and the soul.

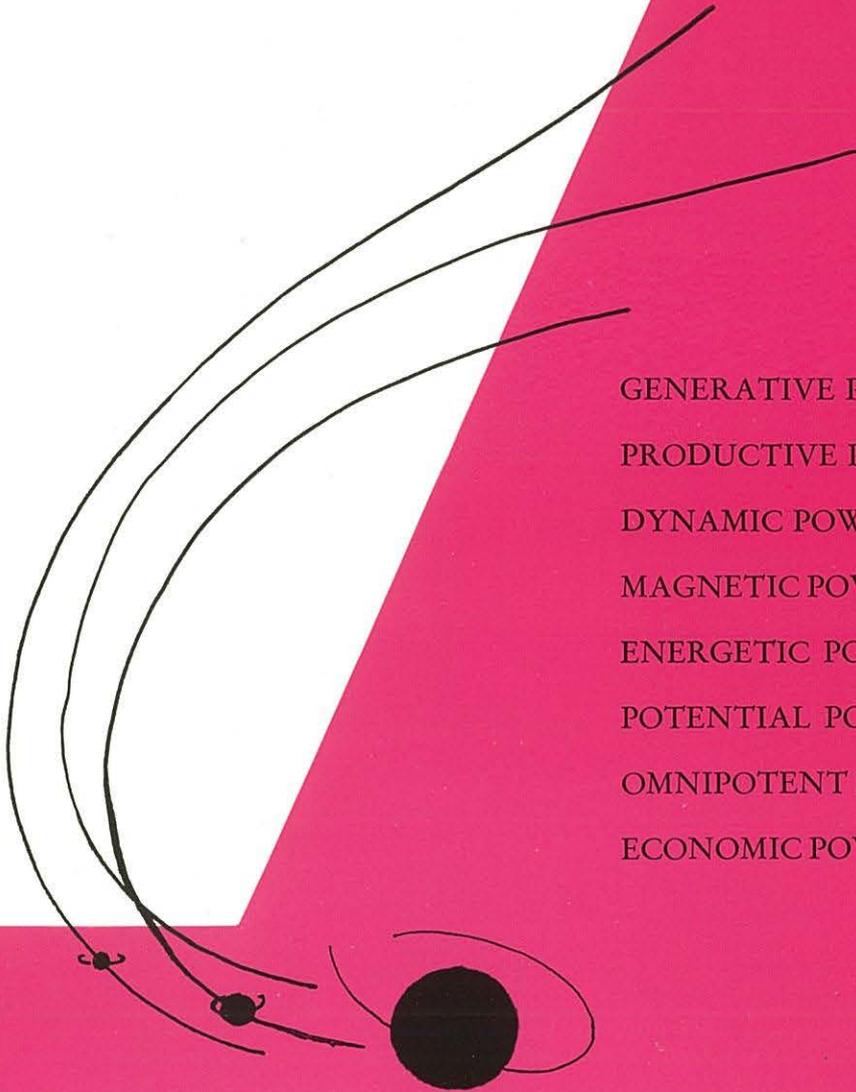

Northwest Nazarene College was built on principles based on the Power of the Divine. The year 1955-56 exemplified this spirit that has been the guiding light of the college since its inauguration and which will continue to be the source of its Power.

The first sight to greet future students of N.N.C. when they arrive on the campus is this sign standing on the northeast corner of the campus.

The Church College

I like colleges that nestle
 In quiet little towns,
 And seem to offer something more
 Than credits, caps, and gowns.

I like classes filled with friends
 Who have a smile for me;
 I don't like profs who know me as
 Row 31, Seat 3.

I hate to meet a former prof's
 Unrecognized stare;
 I like the kind who knows your name,
 Your hopes, your love affair.

I like church-college profs who teach
 Like wise, inspired crusaders;
 Who take the time to read your themes
 And don't hire student graders.

I like colleges which strive to learn,
 Years later where you are;
 Yes, even tho' you've never been
 A campus queen or star.

A mammoth institution holds
 Within its office space,
 Along with proof of my degree

The most it knows about me is
 My city, birth and class.
 I like my old church-college best;
 She doesn't think en masse.

She'll gaily cheer each grad's career
 With faith that's optimistic;
 To her a former student is
 No musty old statistic.

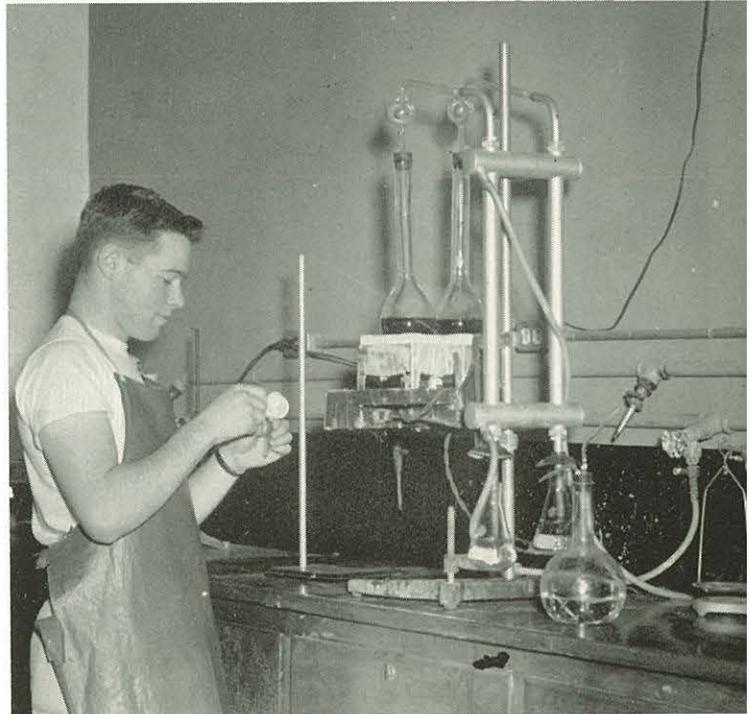

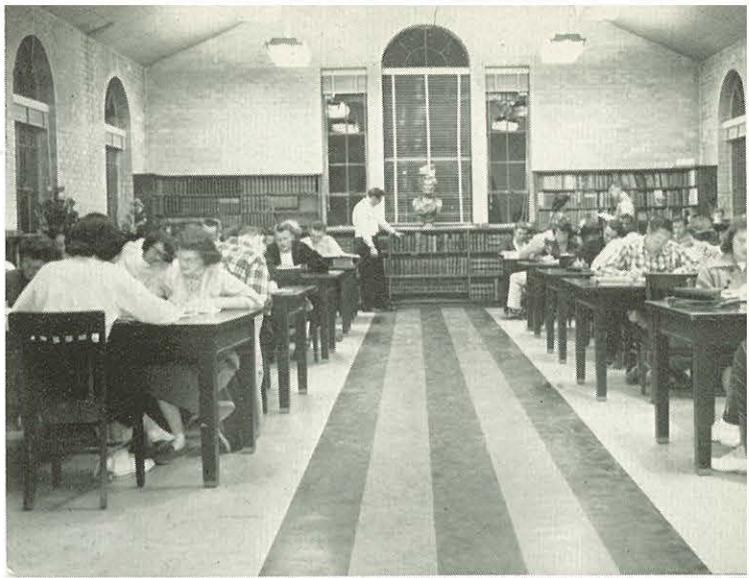

—HELEN RUHENBROD

Northwest Nazarene College began in 1913 with the organization of an elementary school devoted to Christian training for the children of the local Church of the Nazarene. Within two years the school had added both high school and college work to its curriculum. The first degrees were conferred upon a class of four graduates by President H. Orton Wiley in 1917.

The college has shown steady growth and development down through the years. In 1928 the first class was graduated from the state accredited Normal department. In 1931 the College of Liberal Arts was accredited as a junior college and as such was accepted as a member of the Northwest Association of Secondary and Higher Schools. In the spring of 1937 the college received accreditation as a four-year college by the Northwest Association. In 1938 the college was elected to membership in the Association of American Colleges. In 1950 N.N.C. became a member of the National Commission on Accrediting.

At present Dr. John Riley is a member of the higher commission of the Northwest Association of Secondary and Higher Schools. Dean Thelma B. Culver is state chairman of the Teacher Education and Professional Standards Committee for Idaho.

While receiving signal recognition in scholastic circles, the college has maintained a wholesome Christian environment. Spiritual values have been given first place and the spiritual tide has kept pace with the growth of the institution.

The library is full on weekday evenings as students prepare for their classes.

The business machines room is an important part of the business administration department.

Jim Martin and Paul Freeberg use their time to catch up on typing

On the scholastic side, Northwest Nazarene College offers godly professors and dedicated upper-classmen who help freshmen to see that while all are not called to be preachers and missionaries, every person must serve Christ in a vocation or a profession. To find our task is then the problem.

Freshmen tests which point up interests and abilities; conferences with Professor Tillotson and his staff of advisors; chapel talks by representatives from various walks of life; the psychology class planning papers—all these help us to find the place which is each one's to fill. Moments of prayer in the dormitory chapels or in church also shed light upon our decisions.

Having decided on a vocation, students turn to the departments of instruction where are found seventeen subject majors and three divisional majors to meet the needs of everyone. N.N.C.'s accredited courses in education, business, science, pre-medicine, pre-engineering, pre-law and other fields are filled with scores of students who will be the community leaders and Christian laymen of tomorrow.

Last but not least . . . is found a corps of classroom teachers who are devoted to Christ and His cause. A Ph.D. from Harvard . . . a basketball coach who puts Christian principles above games won . . . a former pastor who shares a rich and successful ministry with young preachers-to-be . . . these are but a few examples of the consecrated men and women on our college faculty. Trained . . . versatile . . .

The Winged Victory Chorus, one of four Civic Music Association concerts presented at the N.N. auditorium.

loyal to Christ and the Church . . . these are the professors who make up the very heart of N.N.C.

However, Northwest Nazarene College offers more than a complete academic program. In addition it offers an adventure in Christian living.

Every student on the campus has the privilege of living and working in a Christian environment with teachers and fellow students who have similar standards and ideals. He may then develop a Christian personality and a social competence which will guide him in the future. This adventure provides a continual source of personal enjoyment, valuable lessons in human relations, and growth in Christian character and culture.

A strong campus-centered activity program helps to integrate the various forces at work in the development of students. The family-style meals in Morrison dining room offer boarding students the opportunity to learn proper social courtesies. A dynamic Christian Workers' Band trains church leaders of tomorrow and affords many opportunities for Christian fellowship. Students with like interests find companionship through the avenue of departmental clubs and a spiritual athletic-literary program challenges the abilities of all.

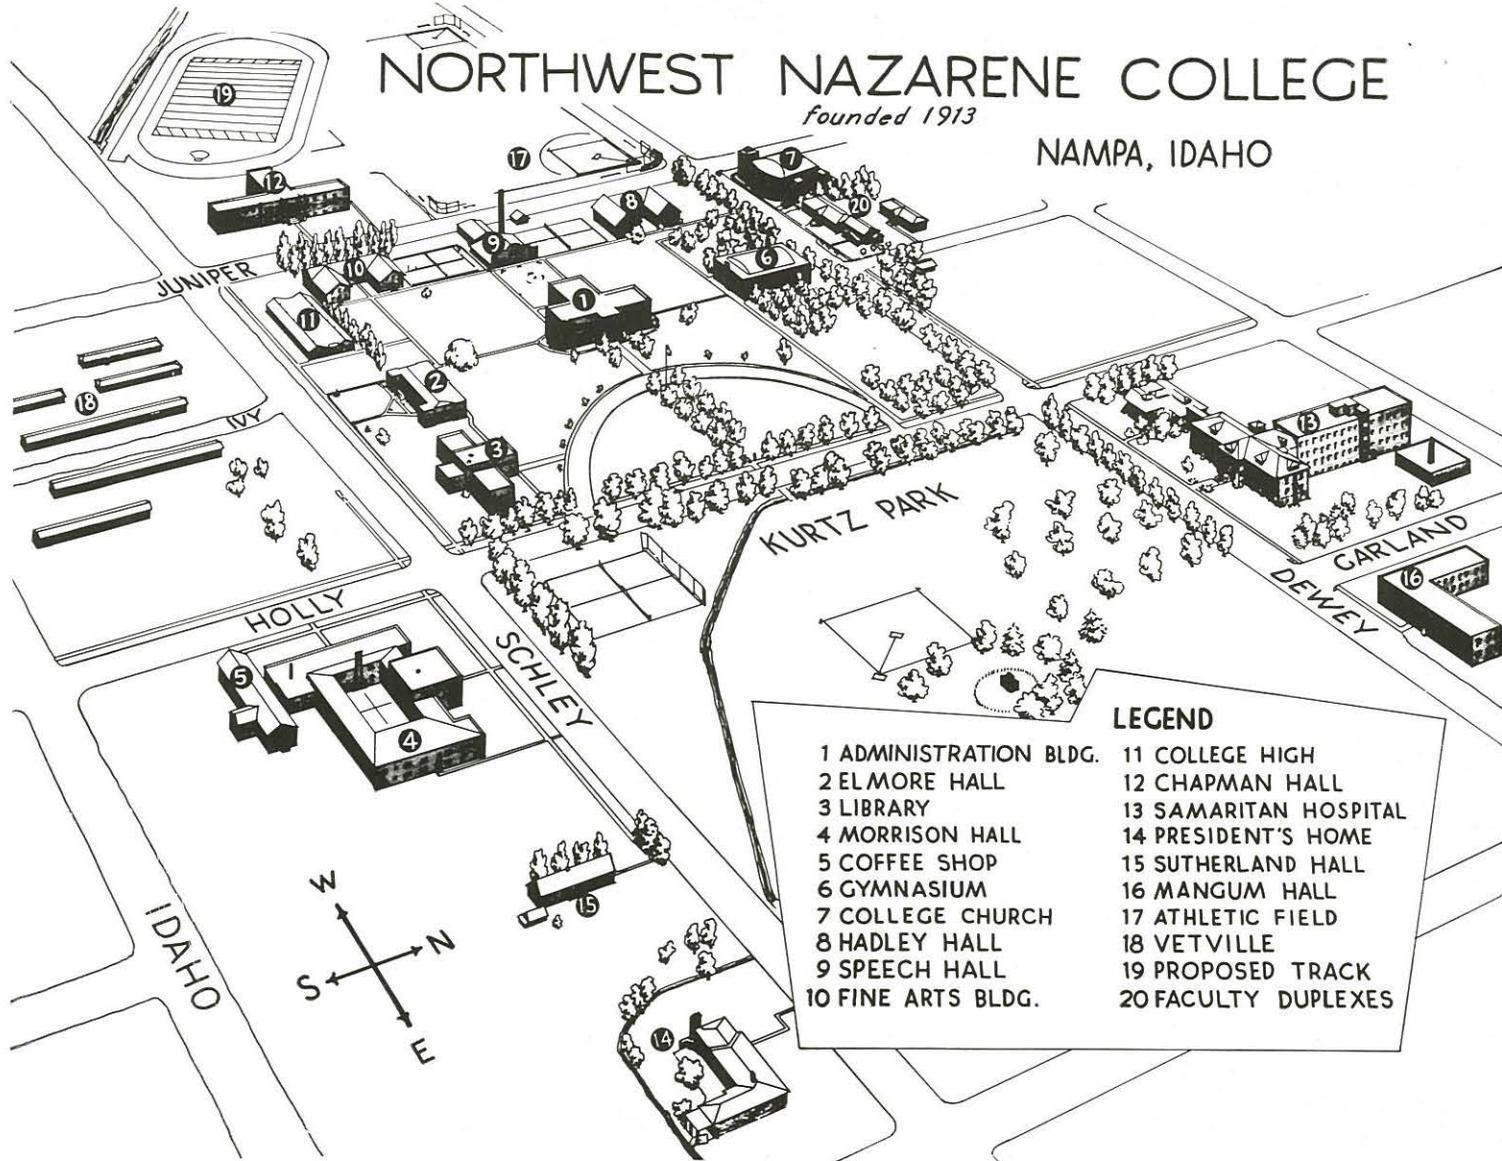

It is a busy time in the coffee shop as students gather for "cokes" and campus talk.

This year has also been an outstanding one in the realm of the fine arts. Through the efforts of Prof. Double E. Hill and his staff in the fine arts division, students enjoyed many special programs.

Early in the year a civic music organization was formed in the city of Nampa and Prof. Hill was elected president. The N.N.C. campus became the center of activity for this group, and a series of four concerts was presented in the college chapel auditorium.

Another music department activity was the sponsoring of a woodwind workshop on our campus. The college band received many compliments for its smooth performance at games and the Crusader Choir received the best wishes of all as it took as its project a trip to General Assembly in June.

Students of Dorothy Long, head of the art department, were thrilled to hear that she had been awarded a $1200 scholarship by Delta Kappa Gamma, national teachers' honorary, this fall. Miss Long was granted a leave of absence for this year so that she might attend the University of Iowa.

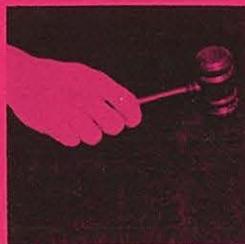

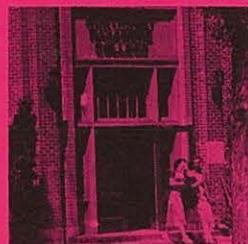

The art department sponsored two exhibits during the year. Students enjoyed the change of location from the library to the art building. This made it possible to leave the exhibit up longer and also afforded an opportunity to see the work in the surroundings where it was done.

Our President

and His Family

The president of Northwest Nazarene College must be a man, the dynamic of whose life can touch heaven and human beings and bring them closer together:

He must find the hem of the Master's garment for the healing powers of collegiate illnesses,

He must have a refuge where he can get spiritual strength, when his own has been depleted by difficult tasks,

He must know a closeness with God for the gaining of wisdom in the complex dealings with regents, faculty, student body, community, state, and church, both local and general,

He must have disciplined thinking and feeling, defined purpose, and actions—actions which are prompt enough to be done in time, but delayed enough to be seasoned with prayerful and careful thought,

He must have the great dynamic of love and be dedicated to a love of truth and its diligent search,

Dr. John E. Riley has been that man. He is ably supported by Mrs. Riley, the gracious and active first lady at "Number One Faculty Row."

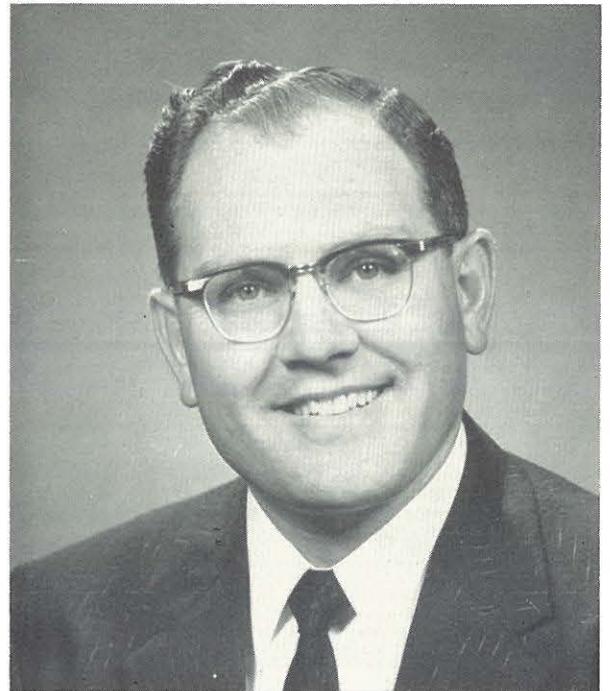

To our president and Mrs. Riley, Northwest Nazarene College is indeed grateful for the investment of another year of determined efforts to mold N.N.C. into a noble ideal.

Great potential power is the result of an inquiring mind. The inquiring mind of Madam Curie discovered radium, the inquiring mind of Walter Reed freed the world of the plague of yellow fever. The inquiring minds of our faculty are attempting to awake and challenge us to worthwhile accomplishments.

Personal interest is a powerful tool in their hands as they strive for this goal. An encouraging word, a smile, and a prayer exert an immeasurable influence.

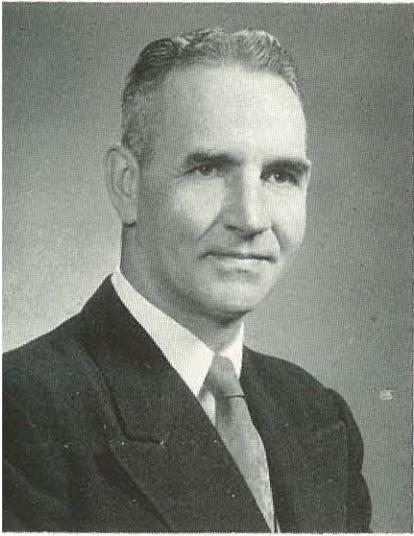

Probably the greatest power of our faculty, the power most specifically theirs is the power of a dedicated life. One does not advance until he decides which direction to go. Through exerting every energy and talent toward the goal of supplying us with a Christian education, each member of our faculty becomes a dynamic force in our lives.

Student Council

An important part of every school is its student government. Here at N.N.C., the student council is the legislative organization. With a fair representation of all segments of the student body, this group attempts to keep the functions of the various clubs and organizations in a coherent whole. It is composed of a representative from each class, the high school student body president, a sergeant at arms elected from the high school, the editors of the Oasis and Crusader, the manager of KROK, and the four student body officers, fourteen in all, plus a faculty advisor.

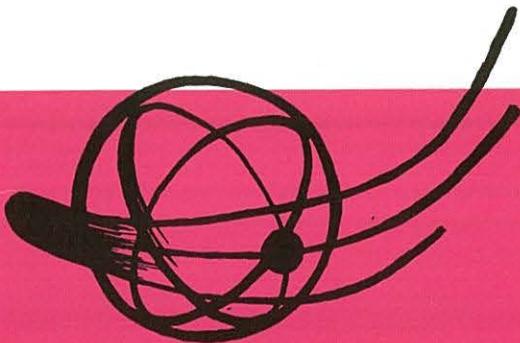

Meeting every Wednesday night after prayer meeting, with attendance compulsory, the group discusses the problems of the campus. Sometimes the battles rage long and hard, but when the vote is taken all are friends, and the best things are usually accomplished.

This year, student body President Darrel Reisch has led the council and student body in a very efficient manner. Problems have been great, but they have been met, and solved. Student morale was kept on a high level, as Vice-President Joe Michel presented good healthy entertainment on weekends, and arranged chapel programs on Wednesday, that contributed to everyone's cultural life.

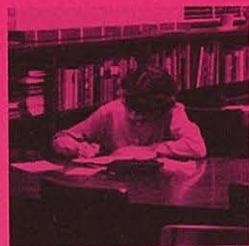

Since this group is the ruling body, each member is expected to be an example of Christianity at all times. This high standard of conduct has exerted a strong influence over the campus, making N.N.C. a truly Christian college.

Seniors

WENDELL POOLE
Class President

As the school year draws to a close, the mind of every senior is flooded with memories of many happy moments spent since arriving at N.N.C. four years ago—a variety of social activities participated in, lasting friendships made among both students and faculty members, knowledge gained and interests broadened, and spiritual life deepened.

As they especially recall experiences of this, their senior year, they realize that it represents the height of their college career, for they have been the leaders of the student body—leaders scholastically, socially, and spiritually. With power, inspiration, and diligence they accepted their responsibilities and strove to accomplish with success all that was expected of them.

Class unity and fellowship have played a large part in each senior's college life. They travelled to Shore Lodge at McCall, Idaho, for their Senior sneak.

After returning to a warm welcome by the juniors, they faced the year with renewed vigor and enthusiasm. Throughout the remainder of the year the class took part in the scavenger hunt, the Junior-Senior banquet, comprehensive examinations, investiture and baccalaureate services, and finally the climax of Commencement.

Four years ago the seniors entered the halls of N.N.C. to receive preparation for living a full and profitable Christian life. Now as they close N.N.C.'s door behind them and view new horizons with hope and high expectations, the school motto will ever remain as their guide for life: "Seek ye first the kingdom of God, and all these things shall be added unto you."

CLARENCE KINZLER
Class President

As Juniors these students are at the very heart of college life. Beginning with the time when they first looked upon the sign and read, "Welcome, Frosh, to N.N.C.," to the time when they themselves hang up the sign, they felt their responsibility in the success of N.N.C. Each year has drawn them closer in their Christian friendships, through all the fun and work that they have shared.

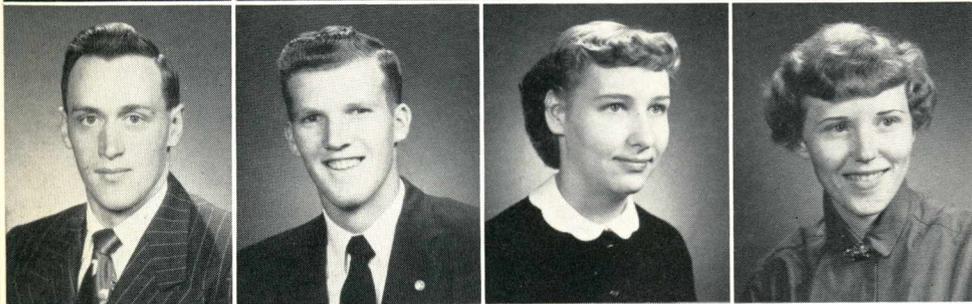

The year has passed so quickly . . . the mothballed suitcases of the Senior Retreat, the Welcome Home Party and all the chili . . . these souvenirs fill many pages in each student's memoir. And say, how vividly they remember dates to the Junior-Senior Banquet! And remember how hard they tried at the scavenger hunt? They've enjoyed your company, Seniors, but are ready to say good-by. . . . They are anxious to take your place. These years at N.N.C. have given them knowledge of how to tap the source of true power as they prepare for a useful Christian life.

JOHN FINKBEINER
Class President

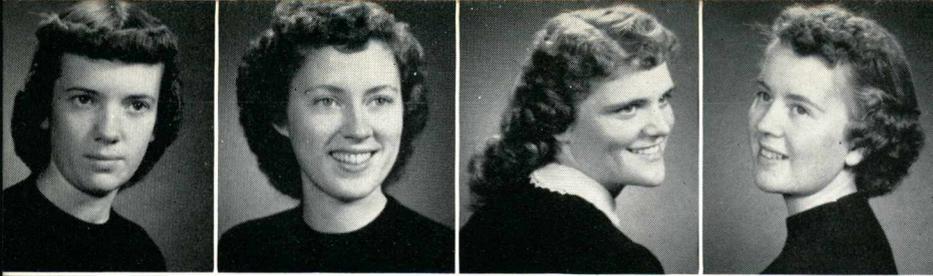

With a year of experience already behind them, the sophomores came back determined to take their place in the life of N.N.C. First came the excitement of the freshman initiation, the flag hunt, and the annual tug-of-war. But these activities soon took second place as the sophomores settled down to their studies.

Although they had learned much the year before, the sophomores were more than ever aware of the fact that they still had much to learn. They appreciated even more the help of Christian teachers. Spiritually, they grew rapidly during the spring and fall revivals and were a real asset to such organizations as C.W.B. and F.M.B. as well as College Church. By the time spring came and the sophomore culture tests were over, the sophomores reviewed their year with satisfaction, ready for the years ahead.

ROBERT BROOKS
Class President

Safely surviving the periods placed before them by the sophomores, the freshmen ended their year on a note of triumph. After they had hurdled the obstacles of entrance examinations, they were suddenly faced with the task of learning how to study and how to adjust their personalities and habits to fit in with those of their roommates.

Many new experiences came to the freshmen. They discovered the thrill of taking an active part in events—social, scholastic, and religious. Each freshman found that he had a place to fill and that no one else could fill that place for him. Under the influence of the religious atmosphere at N.N.C., the members of the freshman class gained a new conception of living. Life took on new meaning for them and each one strived to prepare himself for the future.

Vacations come and vacations go, but there will never be one in which Dean Thelma Culver will ever learn more than her trip to Europe last summer.

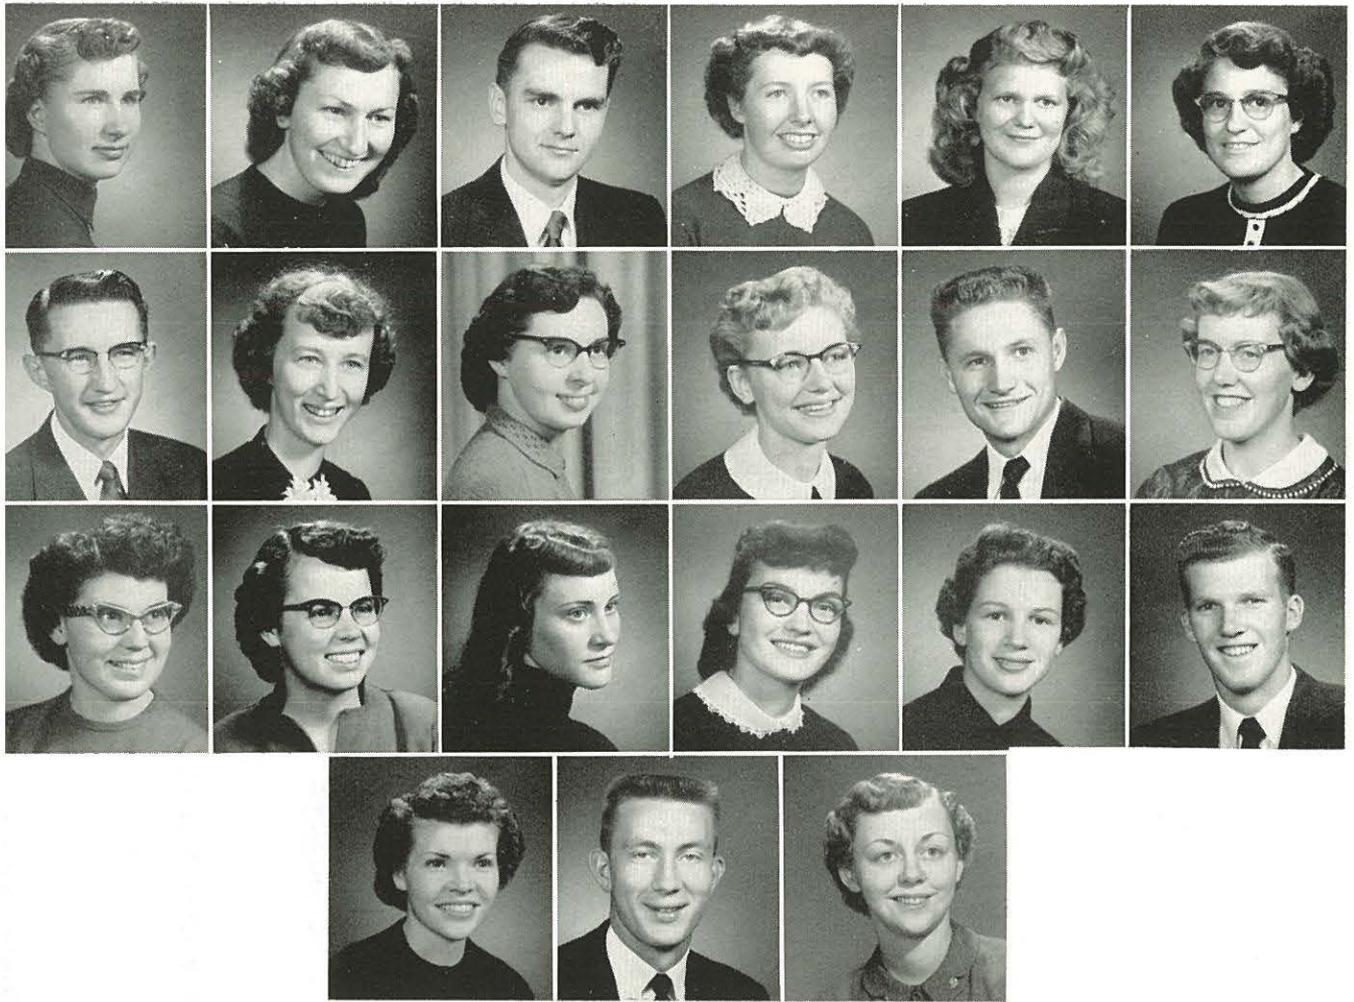

The trip began in De Kalb, Illinois, where Dean Culver attended a meeting of educators from the 48 states. Dr. Culver is Idaho state chairman of the teacher education and standards committee.

From De Kalb, Dr. Culver went to Montreal, Canada where she joined educators from all sections of the United States on a study trip to Europe sponsored by New York University. The group sailed from Wolfe's Cove, Quebec to Southampton, England on June 30. From Southampton they went to London where they studied at the University of London.

In London the American educators were joined by fifty educators from the continent for a discussion of education on the international scene. Sessions were held at Westminster Abbey with two members of the parliament representing labor and conservative groups as discussion leaders.

From London the party went to the continent where studies were made in Belgium, Switzerland, Germany, and France. Dr. Culver reports that the high light of the tour for her was the group's visit to SHAPE and NATO.

"It was the perfect trip for me," says Dr. Culver in commenting about her summer.

Zeta Kappa Rho

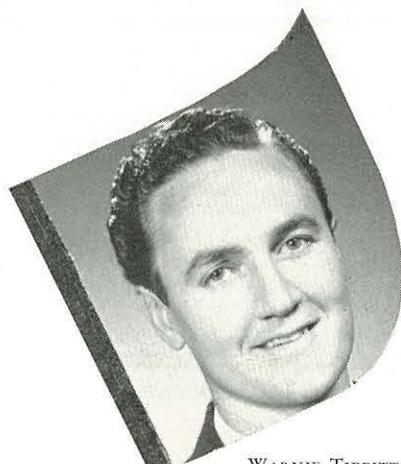

Members of Zeta Kappa Rho, N.N.C.'s honor society, were students who maintained a grade point average of 3.4 or above for two consecutive semesters. The purpose of the club is the promotion of a higher standard of scholarship at N.N.C.

New members, recognized at the last chapel service of the year, are welcomed into the club at the annual breakfast.

Crusader Choir

High light of the year for the Crusader Choir members was their trip to the General Assembly held in Kansas City in June. In addition to the regular choir tour of the educational zone, the Crusader Choir presented a program, entitled "Songs of the Season," which received wide acclaim.

Activities for the choir while here at school also included a chapel program and many appearances in the local churches from time to time. Directed by Professor Warnie Tippitt, the choir proved a blessing wherever it traveled. The fine type of Christian music presented by the choir was truly representative of N.N.C.

Traveling Groups

Three male quartets were chosen to travel for the college as part of its regular program to acquaint people on the zones with the college and to encourage new students to come to N.N.C.

These groups traveled all over the educational zone, holding church services, young people's programs, and assisting in camp meetings and young people's camps. They not only sang and played their instruments, but they testified and helped in other ways to show young people that the Christian way is the best way and to encourage them to come to N.N.C.

The quartets were also active during the school year, holding banquets during Youth Week and going out on revivals for Christian Workers' Band.

After winning the Faculty Loving Cup for six consecutive semesters, the A.D.P.'s finished in third place, first semester, '55-'56. It did not hamper their spirit, however, and they began to work harder than ever to regain the Cup. The girls' athletic team took first place in all team sports, including softball, volleyball, and basketball.

Future Teachers of America

Students who are preparing for the teaching profession composed the ranks of the Future Teachers of America. These students are acquainted with some of the problems they will have to face in the classroom through this organization. They also learn of the most recent educational practices.

The F.T.A. of N.N.C. is the largest chapter in the state of Idaho. The club has had speakers from the Nampa education circles, and had joint meetings with the neighboring junior college of Boise.

Meetings of the Collegiate Ministerial Association were high lighted by special speakers and group discussions. Ministerial students and those interested in Christian service form the membership of the club. The club purchases a copy of the Interpreter's Bible for the school library each year. They also sponsored the showing of the film "Martin Luther." The annual breakfast which featured a special speaker climaxed the year's activities.

Seated—Morris Weigelt, Vice-President; Clarence Kinzler, President; Rick Hartley, Program Chairman. Standing—Dee Freeborn, Secretary; Deb Laws, Treasurer.

International Relations Club

Officers: Meridee Love, Secretary;
Ronald Kratzer, President; Mr.
Sutherland, Advisor.

Led by President Ron Kratzer, The International Relations Club sought to broaden the scope of students' views concerning world conditions. Presenting chapel programs, and sending delegates to the Borah Conference at the University of Idaho, were among its varied activities. Their club was enhanced by the membership of students from three foreign countries.

Marshall Science Club

The Marshall Science Club, whose activities included field trips, viewing science films, and discussions of scientific problems, alerted our campus to the progress of modern science.

One of the club's aims was proving that Christianity and true science do not conflict. Membership in this club was open to anyone interested in science. The club had two field trips; one, an afternoon trip and the other, an overnight trip. It also brought to the N.N.C. chapel a representative of General Motors, who presented a program of the progress of modern science.

Helen Bogle, Program Chairman; Max Urwin, Vice-President; Marilyn Samp, Secretary-Treasurer; Mickey Dean, President.

Home Economics Club

Vital problems such as better homemaking, improvement of community life, personality development, and good grooming provided the central points for meetings of the Home Ec Club. This club was composed of girls who were interested in the problems of homemaking.

The special projects were making aprons for the foods classes, preparing a Christmas basket for the needy and the selling of candied apples to raise money.

First row—D. Murray, R. Kalbflesch, P. Mathis, C. Hagemier, M. Albers, P. Nine, V. Horne, J. Martin. Second row—Sponsor, Miss Rhodes, W. Schaper, P. Condon, P. Nichols, J. Williamson, K. Scriblerus

The stimulation of an interest in classical literature was the aim of the Scriblerians of the present school year. Their specific study was mythology. English majors and any other students interested participated in a study of the major gods and goddesses.

Meetings were held in the homes of the advisor and members to add to the informality of the occasion. The project of the year was the sponsoring of the Bertha Dooley writing contest. Barbara Sanford was the president of the club.

Standing—W. Miller, L. Martin.
Seated—D. Chumley, Advisor Miss Washburn, L. Morgan, J. Johnson, B. Martin, J. Wilcox, B. Sanford, C. Harmon.

Business Club

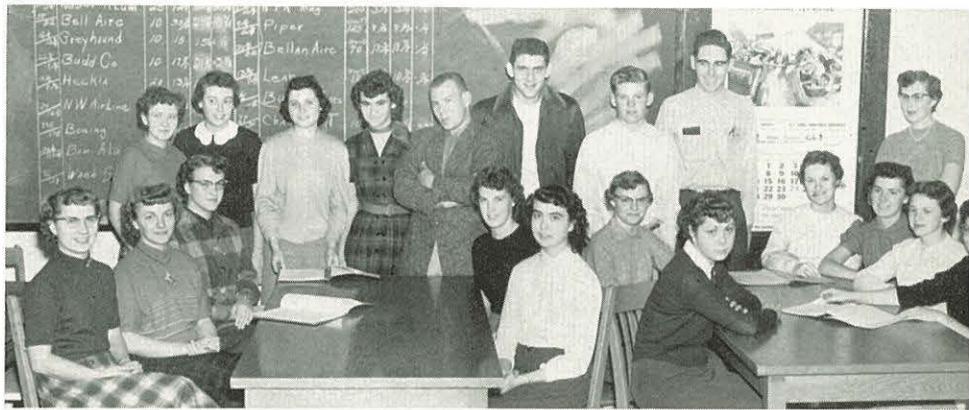

"Psychology of Selling" was the theme chosen by the Business Club for this past year. The theme was made practical through various means such as field trips, special speakers, and films.

Under the leadership of president, Jean Wilson, and advisor, Mrs. Voget, the club has enjoyed many social activities. Among these were the progressive Christmas party, the business club dinner in April and the picnic in May.

Officers: Standing—Program Chairman, Phyllis Hartley; Vice-President, Ken Haney; Secretary-Treasurer, Pat Nine. Seated—President, Jean Wilson; Advisor, Mrs. Voget.

Lower Division Students: Seated—W. Hokanson, B. Daniels, C. Hill, K. O'Malley, D. Bonner, R. Hull, B. Pine, K. Van Allen, K. Hankins, L. Lewis, M. Buess. Standing—B. Hoyt, J. Klein, P. Tolan, R. Henske, V. Ferris, H. Weitman, R. Becker, B. Zuercher, J. Williamson.

Mu Upsilon Sigma

Mu Upsilon Sigma, the campus music club, has presented a constructive music program of films, records, concerts and studies of the lives of musicians. Outstanding were films which depicted the life of Robert Schumann, and another filmed by the New York Philharmonic Orchestra picturing make-up of the symphony orchestra.

The recitalists provided moments of exaltation and inspiration for N.N.C. public. This organization was under the leadership of Don Edwards.

Beta Chi Alpha

Beta Chi Alpha, the art club at N.N.C., has been actively engaged in making the campus more conscious of aesthetic values.

The special project was the redecorating of the Fine Arts building and the Hadley Hall parlor. The club presented two exhibits, planned the homecoming decorations and sponsored several art trips. Alda Sandquist was the leader of this group.

Officers: Seated—Joyce McConnell, Alda Sandquist, President. Standing—June Williamson, Janet Cummings, Secretary; Bill Jackson, Treasurer.

First row—Sponsor Mary Shaffer, J. Cummings, W. Barber, J. Williamson, A. Sandquist, J. McConnell, P. Wood, Sponsor Ruth Long. Standing—M. Schroeder, B. Jackson, M. Encarnacion.

Circle K

A service club operated under the sponsorship of the Kiwanis Club was Circle K, a club for the men of N.N.C.

Among the duties of these men were ushering for chapel services, and conducting both campus and motorcade tours.

Wally Johnson and President Max Urwin attended the International Meeting held in Iowa this summer. The Circle K also co-operated with the Kiwanians in the Toys-for-Tots Drive at Christmas and the City Kid's Day. Their project for the year was the buying of hymn books for the chapel.

Few students realize the work that goes into producing a yearbook—not just any yearbook, but a good one, that accurately recreates the year in both pictures and words.

This year Lloyd Bellamy and his entire staff, have striven to give the student body a book it can and will be proud of, one that will, through the years, bring back the memories of this year at N.N.C. A good yearbook is not something that is produced overnight. It is the result of tireless effort on the part of all its staff members—whether preparing copy, layouts, or advertising. It requires the co-operation of every one from the editor down to the least member of the staff. Each has his job to do and each must do it, for a staff is only as good as its weakest member.

It is our sincere hope that this book meets the fullest expectation of you, the owner. As you thumb through its pages, both now and in the years to come, may this Oasis bring back many rich memories of your days here at N.N.C.

Under the editorship of Duane Olson and Winton Miller, a seemingly tireless staff produced a Crusader for the student body every Friday, except for such weeks as vacations and examinations.

Reflecting the atmosphere and attitude of N.N.C., the paper served as a mirror of life here on the campus. "Get the news—and get it right" might have been a motto of the staff this year, for the Crusader was bigger and better than ever before. Club news, social news, and feature material were only some of the many items that went into each Crusader.

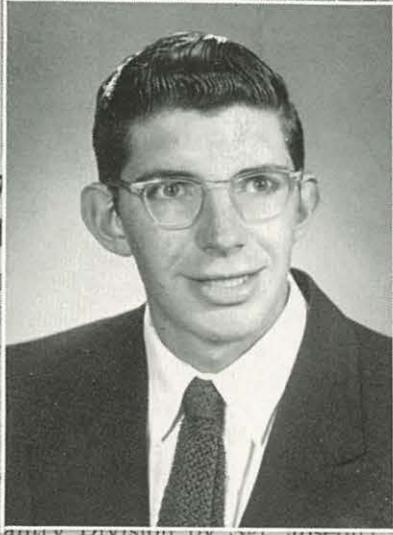

We should like to commend the whole staff for the fine work and advancements they have made this year, both in serving the student body and the community.

Station Manager Gene Hansen at the controls of the radio console.

N.N.C.'s Campus radio station made many advancements this year under the leadership of station manager Gene Hansen. Gene and his staff of operators continually tried throughout the year to improve both the announcing, and the program selection on KROK.

By such means as questionnaires and interviews with students, the KROK staff endeavored to be constantly producing the type of programs most in demand.

Among the programs presented on KROK were broadcasts of church services, club meetings, news from the campus, classical and religious music, C.W.B., and chapel programs, sports events and variety programs.

Members of the staff gave special attention to such announcing problems as enunciation, proper pronunciation, timing, and quality of the voice. We are justly proud of the advances made by this year's KROK staff. Through their efforts we have been better able to reach the community and aid the public relations of N.N.C.

Anyone who played an instrument was invited to participate in the College Concert Band. Under the direction of Professor Eby, this group of about thirty presented a series of concerts in the different churches. They also presented a chapel program first semester.

The band was able to add several new instruments, through the college music fund and an anonymous donor.

A separate organization, but composed of many of the same members, was the pep band that played for all the home games. The pep band is a student sponsored organization.

The Crusader hoop squad had an outstanding year, as they finished in second place in the newly entered Intermountain Collegiate Athletic Conference, with a ten win, four loss record. Mainstays of the team were Jay and Mickey Dean. Jay, a transfer from Oregon State College, where he was named to the All-Coast Conference team, played outstanding ball. He scored 30 points in the Seattle Pacific game for the highest total points in one game this season, and broke the old record for free throws in one game with 16. Jay also led the team in scoring with 433 points. Only one point behind him was Mickey with 432. Mick wound up his fabulous college hoop career by scoring 1394 points to set a new school record. The old record was 1367 set by John Cramer in 1946-50. Mick was presented with a gold trophy for his merits in this department.

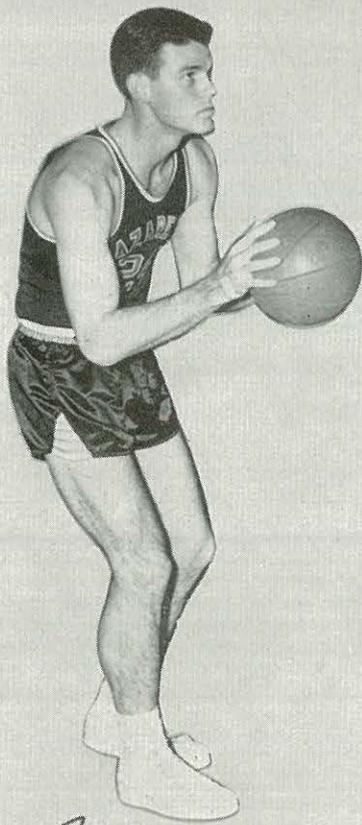

The team had its rough spots through the year as several men were lost at midseason. Arnie Finkbeiner, snappy Sophomore guard, and Dave Gardner, Sophomore ace from Portland, and third highest scorer, quit school at mid-semester; Darrel Reisch, A.S.B. Prexy, and three-year letterman dropped, and Al Freeman was lost through illness.

All in all, the Orrin Hills' coached squad had a very successful season. With an excellent twenty win, eight loss record, the team set a new school record by winning twenty games in one season. Much thanks can go to Coach Hills, as he worked many long hours to shape and mold the team into a functioning unit. Although getting off to a slow start, the team finished up with a record that N.N.C. can be proud of for years to come, winning seventeen of the last twenty games.

Junior Varsity

Coached by Woody Beukelman, the Junior Varsity has had another outstanding year. Their record was 18 wins and only 8 losses. They participated in the Nampa City League and played preliminaries to the Varsity games besides taking fourth in the Gooding Outlaw Tournament at Gooding, Idaho. Among their honors were four straight wins over the College of Idaho Junior Varsity, a feather in any team's cap.

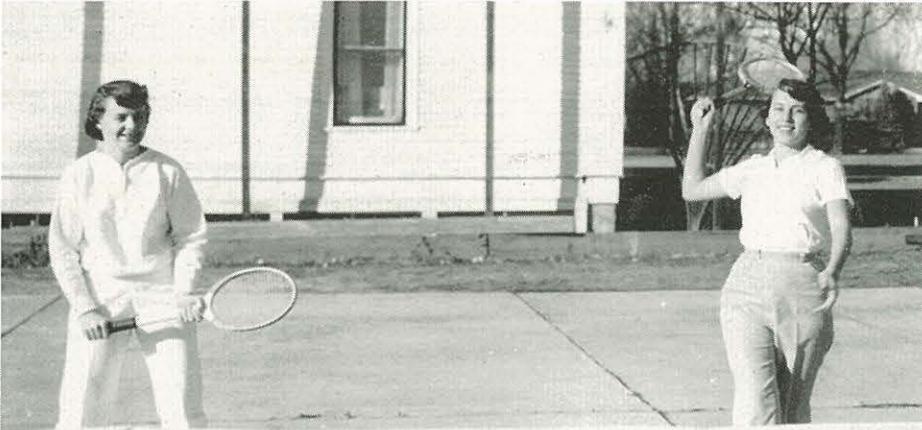

The objective of the Junior Varsity program is to provide future varsity players with the chance to improve their skills and prove themselves of varsity caliber. While learning the fundamentals of basketball, they were also taught the basic principles of Christian sportsmanship.

Leading the team was Captain Wally Steward, and other outstanding players were Don Doane and George Zickefoose, besides many others who worked hard to make the J.V.'s a successful venture.

Tennis

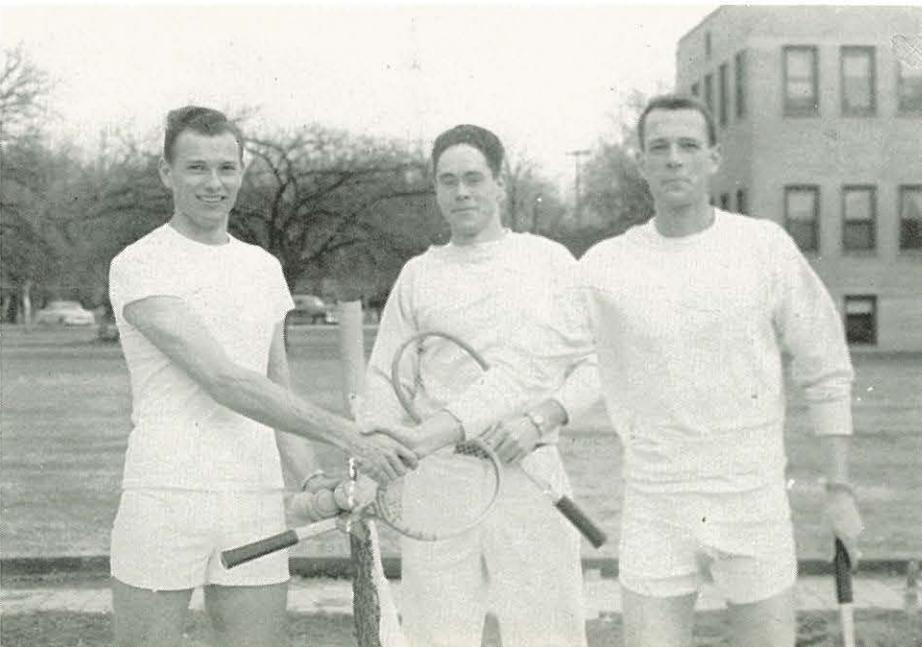

Betty Richardson and Lois Morgan prepare for spring matches at the N.N.C. courts.

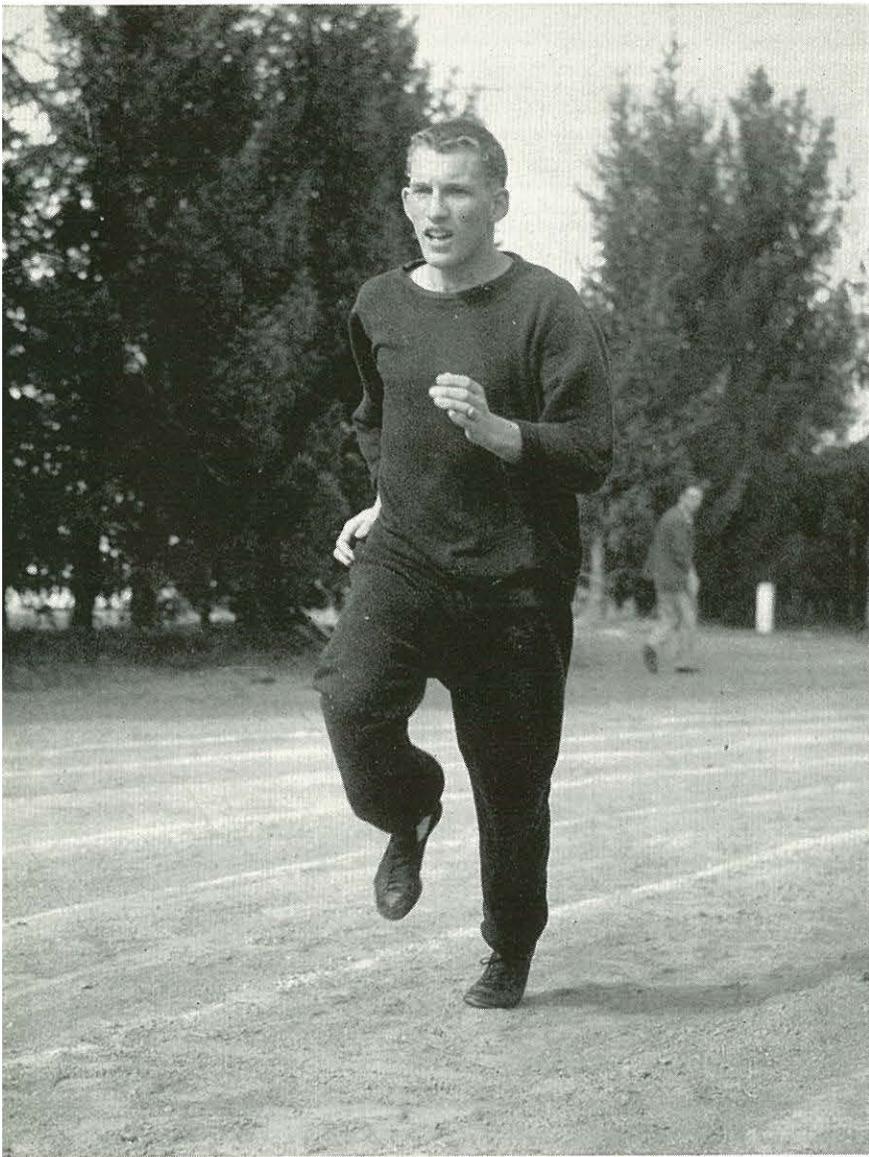

Players Jo Wilcox and LaDonna Nafziger and Coach Wanda Rhodes during workouts.

The girls' net team, coached by Miss Wanda Rhodes, had a very successful season. In their two main matches of the year, they beat College of Idaho twice. Outstanding players were Lois Morgan, Jo Wilcox, Betty Richardson, and LaDonna Nafziger. Since all of these girls are returning this spring, another great team is expected.

The men's tennis team of 1955 was composed of Stan Kern, Roy Croskey, Glenn Beers, and Joe Michel. Their main event of the season was the Intermountain Conference Meet in Ogden, where they performed well. Prospects are very good for this spring as three of the men are returning.

Men's tennis players Joe Michel, Glenn Beers, and Stan Kern.

NNC Goes to the Nationals

John Finkbeiner, from Wenatchee, Washington, a high school miler, came to N.N.C. amid much publicity. Beginning his college career in the Fall Cross Country, he did well. When spring rolled around, he ran the mile, the half-mile, and low hurdles, he placed high in each event. He placed first in the half-mile in the Conference meet and also at the District 5 meet in Bozeman, Montana. He was selected one of the five to go to the National finals at Abilene, Texas, where he placed ninth in the half-mile.

220 Low Hurdles—J. Finkbeiner	25.9
Discus—W. Miller	128'
High Jump—Dan Martin	5'9"

Mickey Dean leaps high in the air for this place in the broad jump in the Conference meet.

The cinder squad of 1955 had a very fine season. In the first conference action of any N.N.C. athletic team, the squad missed capturing first place only because of a heartbreaking disqualification in the 880-yd. relay, but ended in second place anyway. Later in May, John Finkbeiner and Carlyle Dean attended the District 5 N.A.I.A. Tournament at Bozeman, Montana. John set a new tournament record as he took first place in the half-mile, and Carlyle broke the shot-put record. The last week-end in May, "Flashly Fink" attended the N.A.I.A. meet in Abilene, Texas, where he captured ninth in the nation in the half-mile. John was only a freshman.

Coach Hills' cindermen participated in three other meets, placing third in their own invitation-meet, second in the E.O.C.E. meet, and first in the meet with College of Idaho. Wayne Aller was presented with the outstanding track award for being the most consistent point maker in the broad jump, relay, and 440.

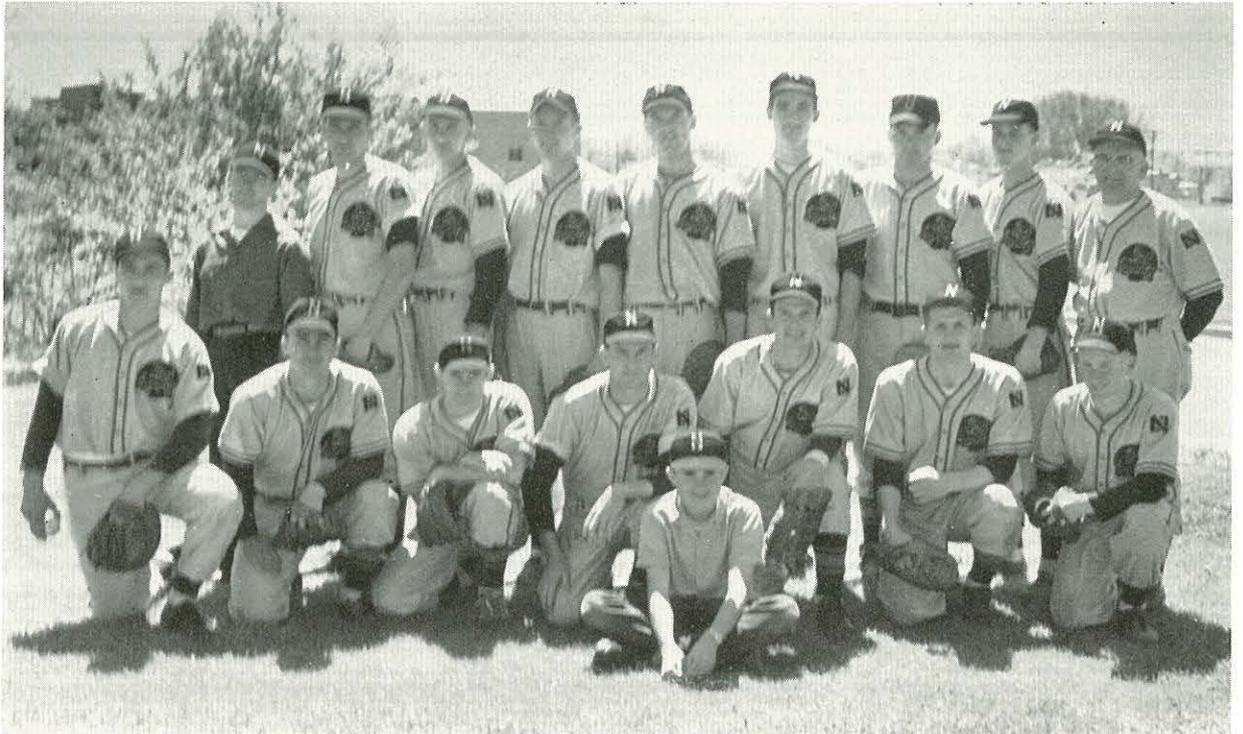

The outlook for this year's squad is very good. Returning veterans are: Clarence Kinzler, 220, 440, relay; Dan Martin, high jump; Winton Miller, discus; Harry Maine, mile, two-mile; John Finkbeiner, mile, half-mile, 440, low hurdles; Mickey Dean, broad jump, relay.

Baseball

Coach "Pop" Frazier's diamond nine, despite a very rainy spring, emerged with an impressive 8 win 5 loss record. The team was led in the hitting department by Hal Weber and Mickey Dean with .429 and .418 respectively. Mickey also was named as the most versatile player as he stole 13 bases, and batted in 9 runs. Right fielder Don Boyd, was the best clutch hitter with 12 runs batted in. Cecil Campbell and Paul Ralphs were the main chuckers for the team. They each compiled a 4 win 2 loss record.

Veterans returning this year are Don Boyd, Hal Weber, Mick Dean, Duane Peppley, Keith Jones, Cecil Campbell, Dan Martin, and Ben Clouser. New pitchers Ed Crofford and Don Kinyon will bolster the squad greatly.

Kneeling—D. Morgan, D. Bowman, D. Boyd, P. Ralphs, W. Smith, L. Bach, C. Campbell, K. Jones.

Miss Rhodes and Mrs. Voget prepare Coach Hills to serve at the G.N.G.-"N" Club breakfast for losing the season's ticket sales contest.

Gamma Nu Gamma, the girls' letter club, acts as a service club on the campus. Any girl who attains the required number of points, through participation in intramural sports, may become a member. Each year the G.N.G. picks a special project to carry out. This year their project was the making of a permanent robe for the Homecoming ceremony. A high light for the year was Homecoming which was co-sponsored by G.N.G. and "N" Club.

Arranging for the selection of the Homecoming Queen and her court is one of the "N" Club's major undertakings. Boys from the "N" Club also acted as escorts and an honor guard for the royal court. This year with the G.N.G. they sponsored a reception after the Homecoming Game to which the Alumni were invited.

New members are initiated into the club each year, after they have earned a letter.

College High, now an accredited member of the Northwest Association of Secondary and Higher Schools, has always been an integral factor of the campus life of N.N.C. As such, it shares the same desires and ambitions, fights the same battles and rejoices when advances are made and victories are achieved.

Faculty and students alike exert untiring efforts to strengthen the high school sector of our educational facilities at N.N.C. in every way. Each year we observe with pride those of our alumni who acquire places of recognized leadership on: College scholastic honor roles, athletic teams, music groups and in general share responsibilities about the College and in the churches of our area.

College High Student Council is the beginning of actual experience in democratic government and leadership for many students. All matters concerning student government are handled by the council. They also direct all student affairs and assist in discipline problems. The Student Council offers a good place to show that leadership abilities, Christian principles, and student government can be successfully combined. As a student leader is trained so the training will follow through into his future vocational life.

The Senior class of '56 has been an outstanding class scholastically and athletically. They are proud of their class and regret leaving their high school days behind, but eager to discover what the future holds. Bill James is president of the senior class, with Keith Wright, vice-president; Lucille Cotner, secretary; Barbara Urwin, treasurer; Dick Ness, sergeant at arms; Barbara Peterson, social chairman; and Neola Leinweber, representative. 1956 Homecoming College High Homecoming was the high light of the '55-'56 basketball season. Five lovely candidates were escorted through the aisle of honor guards to their positions in front of the stage. The Queen was identified by the presentation of a bouquet of red roses. She was then escorted to her throne and crowned Queen Anita I by "N" Club president, Keith Wright.

Beautifully portrayed in the decorations, the theme was "Moments to Remember." Background music was provided by an organ playing the theme song.

The College High football team brought down the curtain on the 1955 season with a 6-1 win and loss record. After the final game at McCall, the Trojans met and chose Bill James and Larry Hull as honorary co-captains.

Larry Hull led the team for the season with 36 points. Under the coaching of Mickey Dean and Duane Peppley the Trojans completed another successful season.

B. Peterson, L. Cotner, and B. Keen are the C.H.S. Cheerleaders

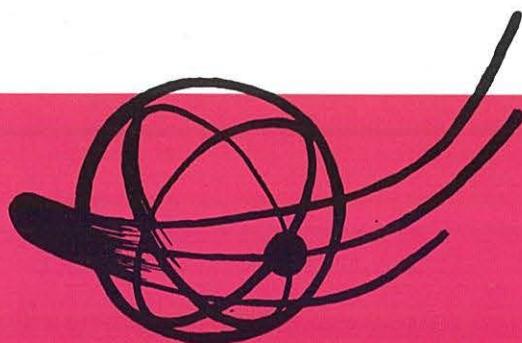

Basketball

The College High Trojans completed another successful basketball season, with a 17-2 win and loss record. The squad placed second in the Skyline Conference, with an 8-2 standing. Under the coaching of Prof. Virgil Vail the team kept their opponents to a 44.5 point per game average, while they averaged 52.7 points per game.

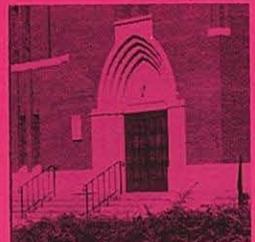

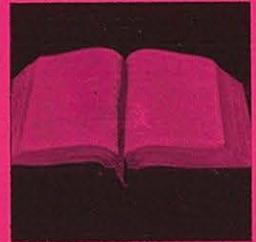

Larry Hull led the Trojans again this year as high point man, with a 15.7 average; however, the captain of the team, Perry Winkle, followed close behind with a 13.5 average.

College Church

"Home away from Home" is a phrase that aptly describes college church and the way that students at N.N.C. feel toward it.

Though large, College Church is nonetheless a friendly church, whose members do all that they can to make the College students feel welcome. One such project undertaken by the members of College Church was inviting the college students out for at least one home-cooked meal during the year.

Each student had a place to fill, for without the student there would be no College Church. Many students were active, singing in the choir, teaching Sunday School classes, helping with the boys' and girls' clubs, and participating in services.

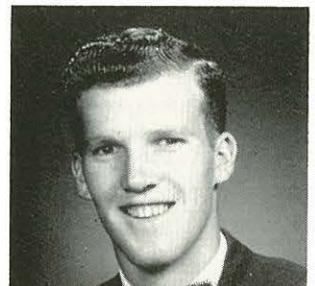

Many students were drawn closer to the Lord through the messages of Reverend Eugene Stowe, the spiritual emphasis of the fall, Youth Week and Spring revivals.

The Messiah

Under the able direction of Warnie Tippitt, the Philharmonic Choral Society gave its eighteenth annual presentation of Handel's "Messiah."

Soloists for the "Messiah" were Darlene Emerson, soprano; Lois Barton Chaffee, contralto; Richard Lindbloom, tenor; and James Carkhuff, bass.

WARNIE TIPPITT
Director

N.N.C.'s orchestra, under the direction of Professor John Eby, accompanied the Choir. The instrumentalists were Double E. Hill, pianist, and Mrs. Alline Swann, organist.

This annual presentation, much looked forward to by college students and townspeople alike, is one of the outstanding features of the year.

Soloists: Richard Lindbloom, Darlene Emerson, Mrs. Robert Chaffee, Jim Carkhuff.

Foreign Missions Band

A club, not only for those called to the mission field, but also for anyone who was interested in foreign missions, was the Foreign Missions Band which met each Thursday evening in the Chapel.

This active group sponsored such various projects as Missionary boxes and writing to missionaries on the field.

Programs for the meetings included special speakers, slides, films, and special numbers in song. Each meeting was broadcast over KROK. The finale for the year was the annual F.M.B. breakfast.

General Missionary Society

All the students of N.N.C. were members of the General Missionary Society. Every Thursday, the chapel service was devoted to a program sponsored by this society. The project for the year, to which many students contributed, was the Uruguay chapel.

Officers: Program Chairman, Carol Hankins; President, Wendell Poole; Treasurer, Lara Jane DeLashmut; Program Chairman, Eleanor Horne; Vice-President, Ron Kratzer; Secretary, Nancy Shimabukuro.

Their membership increased over the past few years, the Christian Workers Band made their main objective, the building of Christian character.

Divided into eight separate groups, each member is kept busy participating in church services all over the states of Oregon, Washington and Idaho. With nearly 200 members, the group was one of the most active ever at N.N.C., as they attempted to build the Kingdom of God.

Victory Vocalaires: Jackie Watson, Kay Van Allen, Violet Jahn, accompanist, Shirley Thomas.

Words fail to express a person's gratitude when he attempts to express that appreciation. For in the depths of an editor's heart are cherished memories of nights of work, of planning, of discouragement, and of success. But hidden away also in his heart are feelings of deep gratitude to those who helped to produce the 1956 OASIS. The many who worked hard and long to make this annual one of the best, will not soon be forgotten by him who merely attempted to keep things moving.

The editorial staff of Betty, Shirley, Nadine, and Helen, worked all year long planning, pushing, and making the annual. Each member of the staff was willing to work whenever he or she was called upon. When the machinery almost slowed to a stop, the advisors, Miss Marian Washburn and Mr. L. Wesley Johnson, came to push the right buttons and put it in motion again.

Taking charge in the big-work-no-honor department was business manager, Don Boyd. He worked in a systematic and businesslike manner in order to bring in a sufficient amount of advertising. Thanks go also to the advertisers, both church and commercial who helped produce the OASIS. They, too, played an important part in the publication of this book.

Working at all hours of the day and night, portrait photographer, Walter Braun, produced the pictures when they were needed the most. The co-operation and fine work of Caxton Printers and Artcraft Engravers manifests itself as one glances through the pages of the annual.

Never will this editor forget the many friends who have co-operated to publish the 1956 OASIS. Again, thanks to all.

LLOYD BELLAMY, Editor
