

83 SENIORS APPROACH GRADUATION

Airport "Sky-Chef" Hosts Annual Jr-Sr

The Junior-Senior Banquet will be held tomorrow evening at 8:00 o'clock in the Sky-Chef Restaurant, atop Nashville's Municipal Airport Terminal Building. Given by the juniors in honor of the graduating seniors, the annual formal affair is the climax of the school year's social season. Attendance is strictly limited—to juniors, seniors and their special guests, and faculty members.

The juniors will read a Last Will and Testament of the departing seniors (prepared by Dick Bailey and Jan Forman), and a prophecy of the seniors is being prepared by their sponsor, Dr. Adams. The guest entertainment is being kept secret until the night of the banquet.

Four sophomores were elected by the junior class to serve as hosts and hostesses at the banquet—Billie Jean Cline, Ruth Downing, Paul Johnson, and Larry Knight. The Circle K Club, under the direction of Marshall Singletery and Larry Knight, will park cars for the guests at the banquet.

Chairman Ruth Ellen May and her committees have put many hours of hard work into the preparation for the banquet. Sara Hill, class treasurer, was in general charge of financial arrangements, assisted by Karen Salsler, Lynda Arender, Jim Tabers, and Steve Oliver. Printing of the programs was under the direction of Margie Smith, with Dianne Stigletts and Dianne Stewart assisting. Karen Salsler had charge of table decorations, and the entertainment committee consisted of Larry Huggins, Harris Jamison, and Eugenia Cloud.

Special honored guests will include President and Mrs. William Greathouse and Dr. and Mrs. Homer Adams, senior class sponsors. Jim Knight will serve as master of ceremonies.

Commissioner Warf

Warf Speaks At Commencement

The commencement address to be delivered to the 1965-graduating Senior Class on June 8, 1965 will be given by J. H. Warf, Commissioner of Education for the State of Tennessee.

Mr. Warf was born in Maury County, Tennessee. Serving in the roles as teacher, principal, and Superintendent of the Lewis County School system, he has been state commissioner of education since 1963.

Active in many civic activities, he is chairman of the Lewis County Chapter of the American Red Cross; past chairman of the March of Dimes; past chairman of the Lewis Cancer Society; chairman of the Lewis County Hospital Commission, and of many other committees.

Busy days are ahead for the 1965 graduating class of seniors. The activities include the senior breakfast, June 1; Senior class night, June 4; Baccalaureate, June 6; and many more.

In order to prepare for the heavy load, the Senior class took a trip to the Smokies. They toured Gatlinburg, Tennessee, and Cherokee, North Carolina. Sights of interest included a tour of a candy factory, Oak Ridge, glass blowing, and enjoying the scenery.

Considered to be the most active Senior Class that the college has had in some time, it is in top contention for the honor of being chosen Class of the Year. The officers of the class are Suzanna McManus, president; John Sugg, vice president; Pam Dinkis, secretary; Dennis Orner, treasurer; Jean Cranshaw, reporter; Becky Greathouse, Student Council representative; and Dr. Homer Adams, sponsor.

The baccalaureate sermon will be presented on Sunday afternoon, June 6, by the Rev. W. E. McCumber, pastor of the First Church of the Nazarene, Atlanta, Georgia. Mr. McCumber will receive the honorary Doctor of Divinity degree at the annual commencement exercises.

Honor Students

Three students have appeared on the Honor Roll over half of their quarters at Trevecca. These are Becky Greathouse, Suzanna McManus, and Jeanne Thrasher.

Becky Greathouse will receive her degree in English and Education. She is planning to work on her M.A. in Education at Peabody College. She has been very active during her four years at Trevecca. The greatest honor she has received was being elected to Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges. She has been listed five out of ten quarters.

Majoring in math and minoring in music, Miss Suzanna McManus has appeared on the Dean's Honor Roll seven out of eleven quarters. A member of Who's Who, she has been also a member of the Music Club, Speech Club, Honor Society, and many others.

Listed six out of eleven quarters, Miss Jeanne Thrasher, Student Body President, is looking forward to her marriage on June 10 to Mr. John Sugg. She was also elected to Who's Who. She is a Biology major and an English minor.

Graduating Seniors

The seniors who will graduate June 8 include Milton Baker, Lucy Barnes, Mark Barnes, James Barnett, Ronald Benson, Wanda Blair, Darlene Cain, Ralph Cain, Cathy Chilton, Sara Chilton, Fred Cobbs, Jean Cranshaw, Robert Cullen, Pam Dinkins, Wayne Dollar, Eldridge Eads, Mary Jo Elkins, Charlotte Ellis, David Erickson, Leslie Farthing, Warren Foxworthy, Earl Frye, Frances Gill, Margaret Gordon, Becky Greathouse, Everett Hanner, Glenda Harper, Vernon Henderson, Dallas Hill, Tommie Jean Howard, Nancy Hudson, Richard Humston, Winona Humston, Donald Irwin, Kenneth Irwin, Martha Jared, HESSIE Jarvie, Mary Johnson, Syble Jones, Larry Leeper, Curtis Lewis, Delores McBrayer, Mary Alice McGill, Suzanna McManus, Lloyd Manning, Nancy Mastin, Howard Melton, Susan Middendorf, Wilhelmina Neisler, Dennis Orner, Jan Osborne, Walter Perry, Don Reeves, Joan Ross, Charles Savage, Norma Parrish Smith, Crystine Soyars, Mary Stanistreet, David Stucki, Roy Thompson, Jeanne Thrasher, Mary Toombs, Virginia Wilcox, Royce Wilkerson, Myron Wise, and Willard Wood.

Hatfield Announces New Scholarships

Mr. Dan Hatfield, Director of Student Aid, has announced the offering of twelve new scholarships for the 1965-66 school year.

Nashville First Church is offering four full tuition scholarships for superior students. These scholarships will be given as follows:

- 1 in English, Music, or Speech
- 1 in Religion or Philosophy
- 1 in Science or Mathematics
- 1 in History, Education, or Psychology

Application for these scholarships should be made to the Dean of Instruction.

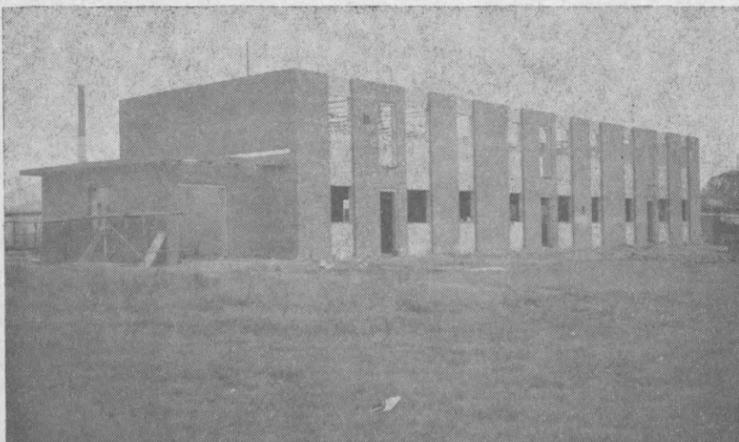

Mr. Jack Strickland of Jacksonville, Florida, is offering a $630 scholarship for an upper-division student, preparing for the ministry or the mission field. Applications should be sent to the president of the college.

The 99ers Council for Business and Professional Development is offering five $300 scholarships in economics and Business Administration. Apply to the Director of Student Aid.

The Homebuilder's Sunday School Class of Nashville First Church is offering a $300 scholarship. Apply to the president of the college.

Freshman scholarships of $225 each are available for entering freshmen whose grades ranked in the upper ten percent of their high school graduating class. Apply to the Director of Student Aid.

Construction is nearing completion on the newest men's dormitory, H. H. Wise Hall. The two story building will house forty-eight men. Of brick and concrete block construction, the dormitory will consist of six suites, three on each level. Each suite contains four two-man bedrooms, a lobby area, and bath. Only upper classmen will be permitted to reside in the dormitory.

The building is named in memory of Rev. H. H. Wise, who was pastor of First Church of the Nazarene in Nashville, Tennessee, for 26 years. Under his leadership, the church became the largest church on the Tennessee District. A loyal Trevecca supporter, he served on the Board of Trustees of the college for several years.

H. H. Wise Hall is to be completed and ready for occupancy by late summer of this year.

Dr. and Mrs. Mackey Elected to Who's Who

Dr. A. B. Mackey, President Emeritus of Trevecca Nazarene College, and Mrs. Lyla Thrasher Mackey, head librarian, have been listed in the 1965 editions of Who's Who in the South and Southwest, and Who's Who in American Education, respectively.

To be released shortly, the 1965 edition of Who's Who in the South and Southwest contains biographical sketches of individuals of regional and local importance in all worthy fields. It is the only biographical work comprehensively listing such names.

Dr. Mackey, who has been listed in Who's Who in America several times, received his A.B. from Eastern Kentucky State Teachers College; M.A. from George Peabody College; and his LL.D. from Northwestern Nazarene College. He is a graduate student from Vanderbilt University, Harvard University, and the University of Chicago. Principal of the Trevecca High School, 1926-29; dean, Trevecca College, 1929-36; Dr. Mackey was president of the college from 1937 to 1963.

Mrs. Mackey's listing in Who's Who in American Education contains a short biography and a picture. To be listed in this collection of outstanding educators requires recommendation from someone who is respected in this field.

Having her A.B. from Central State Teachers College, Oklahoma; M.A. from George Peabody College for Teachers; B.S. in Library Science from George Peabody College, Mrs. Mackey taught four years in the public schools of Clinton County, Ky.; Trevecca High School; and Trevecca College. She has been librarian since 1944.

Very active in educational circles, Mrs. Mackey is a member of the American Library Association, the Tennessee Library Association, and the National Education Association. She is also a member of the Ladies' Hermitage Association.

Her hobbies include reading, working with young people, and travel. She has visited Canada, Mexico, England, Scotland, Ireland, France, Germany, Switzerland, Austria, and Italy.

They're ALL Tough!

The graduating seniors of today are facing problems never confronted by college graduates of "the old days." In the "old days" the college graduate held a distinct advantage for the simple reason that there was not an abundance of people who held an A.B. or a B.S. Back then if you were in possession of a college degree, you were assured of a high ranking position with a generous salary.

Unfortunately, the "good old days" are gone and the present situation is vastly different. Today's college graduate steps not into a world of lesser educated people. He no longer feels superior—only equal.

Unequal occupational opportunities for equal people has an inevitable result—COMPETITION. This, of course, is the unique characteristic of today's world. And even more important, we must realize that this competition has progressed to the stage that the college degree does not offer job security.

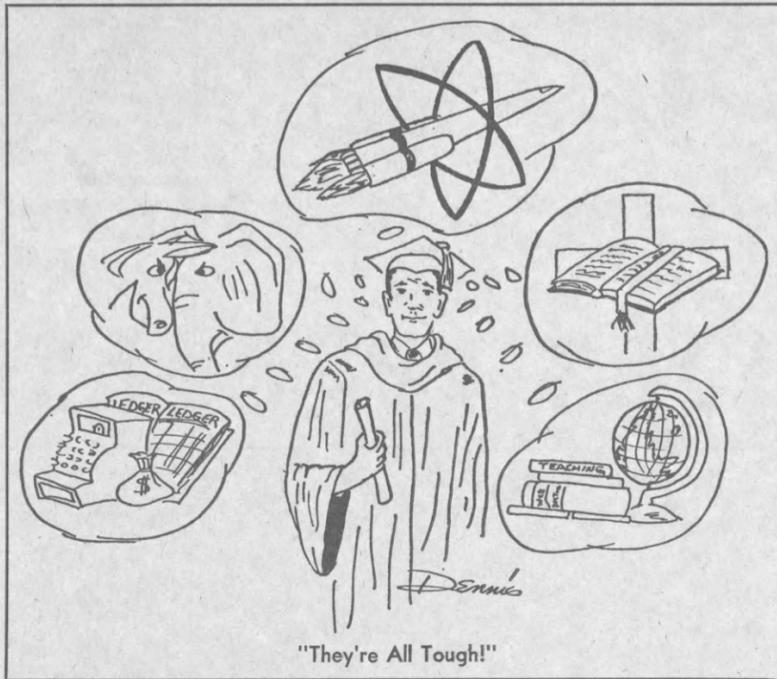

Today's college graduate must possess much more than a degree. He MUST possess determination, social maturity, ambition and goals. Without these he will drift aimlessly and will be trampled by those with more zeal.

An even more striking fact is that this competition exists in all career fields—teaching, business, psychology, science, politics, the ministry, etc.—THEY'RE ALL TOUGH!

The key for success in today's world is not the college diploma. This is no longer sufficient. The key is to make good at that first opportunity; then the doors to success begin to open. Whether it be teaching a country school-room, working as a clerk, or pastoring a home mission church, a successful first endeavor is the best guarantee of ultimate success.

Thus, the graduating senior of 1965 should remember, as he receives his college diploma, that his work is not finished. Whatever field he enters—teaching, science, politics, business, psychology, or the ministry—THEY'RE ALL TOUGH.

—HRB

"They're All Tough!"

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor,

Recently in chapel an incident was used to illustrate the different viewpoints people have concerning various situations. A conversation overheard on campus was mentioned wherein one student remarked, "It's so wonderful to see all the signs of progress at TNC. The other replied, "Yes, but have you noticed how worldly it's getting?" Two views were expressed about our situation. I felt impressed about the matter of the growing worldliness around us. Yet, I reminded myself of the great number of students actively participating in Christian work. There are faithful students who congregate for prayer and worship in Noon Day Prayer meeting, in CWA prayer-meeting, and in the Missionary Prayer Band. There are dedicated Christians in our midst who have calls to special fields of labor for the Lord—ministers and missionaries; there are those who will be Christian laymen in our Church.

The "worldly ones" are but passing fancies. They are not a part of TNC. Our true and faithful Christian students are the heart of Trevecca. They hold the future of our Nazarene Church in their hands. They carry the prayer burdens, and they hold the high standards of our great Church. I have confidence in these dedicated students, for they are really what Trevecca is—a powerhouse of witnesses for God.

CAROL ANNE STONE

Dear Editor,

The practice of taking roll in order to access penalty hours seems to me to be unnecessary in a college curriculum which is supported by sufficient teacher preparation to wake student interest. There are two main facts that bring me to this conclusion.

A college education is an investment on the part of the student. He has paid for each of his classroom sessions, and therefore, with him lies the choice of whether to take advantage of the opportunity or to miss the class. Also I've noticed that those teachers whose class lectures are well prepared, interesting, and virtually necessary to the comprehension of the course of study do not have high percentage of absences in comparison to those whose classes lack the magnetism to draw the students.

Should a student be required to attend a class when he could better prepare for the examinations of the course by spending that hour in reading the text? Why should credit be taken away from a student who pays for the course when he can fulfill the requirements and pass the examinations? I do not think a college has the right to penalize its students for a lack in its curriculum.

SENIOR EVALUATIONS

As I look back over the past four years, it hardly seems possible that I will soon be walking down the aisle as a college graduate. I believe these four years have been the happiest years of my life, and if I were given another chance to re-live these years and go to another college I would still choose Trevecca Nazarene College. My parents influenced me most to come to Trevecca, and I am so thankful for this.

As a senior I am proud to say that I attended Trevecca Nazarene College, and I want to live a life that will exemplify the Christian principles and practices which Trevecca upholds. I feel that Trevecca has offered advancement mentally, physically, and spiritually, and I hope that I can represent my college well.

MARY J. ELKINS

As graduation draws near, I find my heart filled with both sadness and gladness. Trevecca has been my college for the past four years, and she has really filled my life with joys and educational experiences I shall always remember. She has been a college where I have been able to prepare myself for the teaching profession, but she has given me more than a profession. She has given me many friends, wonderful experiences, spiritual blessings, and a greater love and understanding for the Nazarene Church. I am proud to be graduating from Trevecca and I have no regrets that I did not attend another college.

BOOK REVIEW

I WILL TRY is the ingenuous but significant autobiography of Legson Kaviral, an African Horatio Alger who made good his determination to go to college in America. Legson was born in the British colony of Nyasaland. He attended a Scottish mission school where he worked hard at algebra, read Booker T. Washington, and pondered the life and works of Abraham Lincoln. He came to see the land of Lincoln as "a place where one went to get the freedom and independence one knew was due him."

The emblem on Legson's school uniform bore the words: I WILL TRY. When he was about sixteen or twenty—nobody really knows when he was born—he decided to try. One October morning in 1958, carrying an ax, a little flour, a Bible, and a copy of Pilgrim's Progress he set out barefoot for America. This journey proves to be thrilling and moving for the reader. It is the account of one man's odyssey from the Stone Age to the Space Age, and above all, it is an example of good will between black and white.

College: A Quest

Your college years are an arc that stretches from the warm safety of youth into the challenge and independence of the grownup world.

You are in touch with the greatest minds of yesterday and today. Under their inspiration you can come to understand yourself and others, and find your place in the world.

It can help you find meaning—a purpose in your life. For it is a place to discover yourself and in so doing to lose yourself in ventures for the common good.

College should become a quest, a conscientious effort to learn as much as you can, and an opportunity to enrich your life.

It is important to study and make acceptable grades but in addition College should prepare you:

- (1) To understand another's ideas correctly through reading and listening and in turn, to express your ideas effectively to others.
- (2) To improve and maintain your health and to aid in making the community a more healthy place in which to live.
- (3) To understand the dynamics of human behavior as a means of attaining a sound emotional and social adjustment.
- (4) To acquire the knowledge and attitudes that are the foundation for a satisfying family life.
- (5) To take an active, intelligent, and responsible part in public affairs of the community, state, nation, and wider international scene.
- (6) To enjoy the natural environment and to understand the application of scientific facts and principles to human affairs; to understand and appreciate scientific method and attitude, and to use them in the solution of personal and social problems.
- (7) To understand and to enjoy literature, art, and music as an expression of human experience in the past and in the student's own time; also, if possible, to participate in some form of creative literary, artistic, or musical activity.
- (8) To recognize the values implicit in your conduct and to examine these values critically and to develop a coherent set of principles for the evaluation and direction of personal and social behavior.

(9) And, finally, to choose a vocation that will enable you to utilize your particular interests and abilities and to make your work socially useful. You are on the threshold of life, with the opportunity for everything that's good in front of you. And if you give your mind a chance to unfold, you will be a happy person, blessed with interests and activities all your life.

Your college education is what you make it—have you utilized your potential or have you been content to drift along?

Scholarships

One of the most exciting new plans for improvement at Trevecca in the next few years is that of increasing the number and amount of scholarships to be provided for students. This means that one-fourth of all who enroll will be receiving, before long, sizable grants from a scholarship fund regularly budgeted.

A major purpose of such help for Trevecca students is that they shall be free of financial worries and may devote their time to academic pursuits in a degree fully worthy to be called collegiate. In other words, scholarships will promote an increase in genuine scholarship on our campus.

This purpose we believe to be in harmony with both sound logic and good religion. A "holiness college" that is not academically a college is a paradox or a misnomer. This is not to minimize the importance of religion in the Christian institution. We must, by all means, foster the best in religious experience and practice of life on the part of every Treveccan. Saintliness shall continue to be a prime goal. Yet, the world in which we live demands increasingly an effectiveness and competency which rules out all shabbiness in training for constructive space age existence. Nothing short of solid and genuine college preparation can be allowed to go on here as we face the challenges of future years.

This is to say in essence that Trevecca Nazarene College must be at once both a "community of saints" and a "community of scholars." Let us resolve as we grow in numbers and in support that we shall indeed make it so.

Many colleges are turning out "scholars" with skills and knowledge of facts but whose talents are used with questionable result in social betterment. Trevecca's high calling is to add the "saint" factor to the best in academic achievement, thus bringing a redemptive principle to the problems of space age life through those who pass through these halls.

A Cappella Choir Invades Georgia

With "Spence" in the driver's seat of "Old Goldie," the A Cappella Choir headed for Shelbyville, Tenn., and points farther south on Friday, May 21. The illustrious leader of this group was Dave "Joke, Doc" Erickson. Our director, of course, was Prof. Unruh, and his director, Mrs. Unruh, was along, too.

Spence drove us into Shelbyville in fine style. We prepared for the service and went into it with postage stamps on our minds; those stamps were remnants of our devotional message. It was in Shelbyville that we first realized the true worth of Suzanna and began to miss her. She had the honorable job of providing and guarding the pitch pipe and it seemed that no one had prepared for this absence by bringing a pitch pipe. And then, Priscilla Jones came to the rescue. Dependable P.J.!

The service that night was a good way to start the week-end. Carl Taylor made his debut as "Prof. Unruh the Second" by directing "No Name Has Meant So Much to Me" in both services of the trip. We learned that Sharon Hall and Greg Rickey are starved for attention. They're so desperate that they'd mess up our marching order to receive recognition.

After the service, the church people served us a delicious supper. During the meal, the pastor came in carrying a poster. It read: "Church will be dismissed at 10:00 a.m., Sunday, May 23rd, for the annual Jaycees Parade and Festival. Your pastor." It seems that his people had questioningly brought it to his attention after they found it prominently displayed on the church bulletin board. The pastor still believes a choir member played that trick!

Early the next morning, we departed for Tifton, Ga. Two people were really excited about going to Tifton: Mary Stanistreet and Wayne Downing who accompanied us. Mary was going to visit friends and Wayne was going home. The day passed fairly uneventful: Gary Streit beat a few boys to a "pulp," but on the whole, everything went smoothly.

We arrived in Tifton just in time for a barbecue supper and the choir went to the service well-fed. We had a wonderful, responsive audience to sing to that night.

The next day we branched out into six surrounding towns and churches. The different musical groups sang, someone presented TNC and another member of the group delivered the message. From the reports of the groups, every service was a time of worship that blessed both the choir members and the churches.

We headed homeward at 3:30 amidst a confusion of activity; some choir members slept, others read, some tried to get sick, several sang songs, a few made noise, quite a group helped Spence drive, and the remainder wandered over the bus talking and adding to the general confusion. We ate supper in Atlanta, after we nearly ran out of gas. "Old Goldie" sputtered and coughed up a hill and finally we made it to a station.

With everyone's hunger satisfied, things became quiet and we rolled on toward Nashville, arriving there around 1:00 a.m. And what a surprise was waiting for us! Some industrious and thoughtful people had decorated the front of Johnson Hall with balloons, "streamers," and a WELCOME HOME A CAPPELLA sign. It really made us feel good! And then there was a welcoming committee, too. Our last invasion surely ended with a flourish.

The last (and next) appearances the choir will make will be June 7 when they sing after the Alumni Banquet, and June 8 for Commencement.

As the end of the year draws near, everyone becomes sentimental and the A Cappella Choir is no exception. To Suzanna McManus and Jan Osborne, who are leaving us, we extend our best wishes and love. To Prof., we give our sincere thanks for his guidance, patience, and concern. And we couldn't forget "Papa Andy" and Dave Erickson. They've accompanied us on many trips and we appreciate their leadership, inspiration, and help.

With pleasant memories and high hopes for 1965-66, the A Cappella watches this year end.

JANICE MILBY

CLASSES ELECT NEW MAJOR OFFICERS

Last week the freshman, sophomore, and junior classes elected their presidents and Student Council representatives for the coming school year.

The officers must maintain a 1.5 grade average and must be approved by the Student Council and faculty. The president's duties are many and varied, but his primary job is that of acting as "shepherd of the flock." He must be a person who is a capable leader and guide and can assume official control of class meetings, projects, etc. The president must have a cooperative spirit and like people, for many times there will be a difficult situation facing him and much hard work will be involved.

The Student Council representative is the one who is aware of the class's feelings and problems and lets these things be known to the Student Council. He should be well-informed on all class matters so that he can well represent his class and help with its many activities.

The freshmen elected Cecil Cook as their president and Karen Dean as Student Council representative. Cecil is a member of the Circle K Club and Men's Glee Club. Also he is a member of the trumpet trio, which will be traveling for the school this summer.

Karen is a member of the A Cappella Choir, and a former member of the debate squad. Next year, in addition to her Student Council duties she will serve as associate editor of the TREV-ECHOES.

Gary Streit was the sophomores' choice for president. His activities include A Cappella Choir, Circle K Club, of which next year he will serve as secretary, Virginia Club president, and activity co-editor of the TREV-ECHOES.

Nancy Carter, president of the Treble-Tone Choir, was chosen class Student Council representative. She is presently managing editor of TREV-ECHOES and next year will be the executive editor.

A transfer student from Kentucky Mountain Bible Institute, Claude Nicholas was chosen by the juniors as their president for next year. He has been active in all phases of sports, but even so he is a member of the Honor Roll.

Their choice as Student Council representative was Mary Blume. She is active in TAA, having been chosen a basketball All-Star. She was a Nashville College Exchange Council representative and attended the Nazarene Leadership Conference at Olivet this year. Presently she is serving as Darda business manager.

Stuco Reports

As we rapidly come to the close of another school year and say "good-bye" to this year's Student Council officers, we welcome next year's officers, and wish "Good Luck" to Jim Knight, president-elect; Phil Thrasher, vice-president-elect; Kathy Newton, secretary-elect; Janice Milby, Darda Editor; Dick Bailey, TREV-ECHOES Editor; Keith Vennum, C.W.A. president; Karen Dean, Nancy Carter, Mary Blume, class representatives.

Trevecca will thrive under the leadership of such an excellent slate of officers. Mr. Allen, our new Dean of Students, will also serve in the capacity of Stuco sponsor during the 1965-66 school year. Mr. Allen has had previous experience in working with student body government, so therefore is well qualified to take such a position.

CWA REPORT

Today's chapel service was sponsored by CWA. Each department was represented by one of the captains. Perhaps some now understand more fully just what these departments are trying to accomplish and the greatness of the challenge.

The CWA held a Sunday afternoon service recently at the Tennessee Youth Center near Joelton. This is not a department of CWA, but the people there were quite interested.

About one hundred boys live there and are on good behavior. They are, by choice, learning a trade.

Richard Humston preached and Mary Stanistreet, Wayne Downing, and Charlene Smith presented the music.

This is a possibility for a future department. There is a definite need and opportunity, and if the doors would open we could enter.

If you will be here during the summer, contact Keith Vannum, the newly-elected president, and volunteer your services for the department of your choice.

Thank you for your prayers, time, efforts, and money this year in CWA. May God richly bless you.

TREBLE-TONE CHOIR

Thursday evening the Treble-Tone Choir, their dates, and the Great-houses enjoyed a hamburger fry at Shelby Park. While the more domestic ones prepared the food, the athletic-minded choir members enjoyed playing softball. We had the "long and the short" for pitcher (that is, Dr. G. and Dick Bailey). The only casualty was Dr. G.'s "charley horse."

The Treble-Tone Choir will make their final appearance Sunday evening when they present their entire tour program at College Hill Church. The film "The Great Transition" will be shown, and Dr. Greathouse, who accompanied the choir on their spring tour, will be speaking in the service.

CIRCLE-K

The Circle-K Club in its first months of existence on Trevecca's campus has been an active and progressive body. But the future was the concern of the members at its final Tuesday luncheon. Election of officers headed the agenda with Mark Greathouse elected president; Jim Harris, vice-president; Gary Streit, secretary; Marshal Singletary, treasurer; Jim Tabers, chaplain; and Mr. William Anderson, sponsor.

The first annual Circle-K breakfast will be held May 30 at the Albert Pick Motel. The breakfast will be served buffet style and dress is informal. Entertainment will be a quartet of club members: John Sugg, Carl Taylor, Phil Thrasher, and Jim Knight.

Also discussed was the club project. With the profits from the dunking machine the members decided to order a glass paneled trophy case for the student center. Exact cost of the project is not known. Kenny Walker, an employee of Cliff's Cabinet Shop, is planning to build the case during the summer.

Mr. Anderson expressed to the Circle-K'ers his appreciation for the voluntary work in collecting the CIRP reports. He also thanked the group for allowing him to be sponsor and for the club's good beginning.

KAPPA SIGMA PHI

Have you noticed the "new look" of the Fine Arts auditorium? This has been made possible by the kindness of Mr. Milby in donating 100 gallons of paint and by the efforts of a few dedicated Kappa Sigma members. It is the Kappa Sigmas' goal to create an atmosphere more conducive to the cultural activities of the campus.

Next year is a new year of challenge with many plans already in mind. All that is needed now are some enthusiastic and interested officers to lead the way.

T.N.C. Alumni Plan Convention In June

Monday, June 7, will find Trevecca's campus buzzing with former students! It will be Alumni Day!

It seems that a number of alumni are planning for this memorable day, and are anxious to see how everyone's changed. Their newsletter, written by their Executive Secretary, Marian Edwards Jewell, warns the Alumni Association to expect thinning hair, extra pounds, and wallets full of children's and grandchildren's pictures to be characteristics of their former colleagues.

There have been recent changes made in the Constitution of the Association. Faculty and staff members are members after three years' service and everyone who has attended any department, (except grade school), is a member. Also the Association now has an Alumni Office on campus. Much effort has been made recently to obtain a more up-to-date list of alumni addresses, so that the Association's literature can be sent to all alumni.

Guided tours of the college campus will begin on Alumni Day. Bill Anderson, of the Class of '52, will be present with pictures and charts to tell about the ten-year projections for TNC. Coffee and doughnuts will be served to the Alumni for extra strength needed for the tours.

In the afternoon, there will be a softball game: Alumni versus 1965 All-Stars. Again the newsletter suggests to the Alumni to take a bottle of liniment with them.

A banquet is being planned by the Alumni Council with Marie Peery serving as chairman, and the brand new members of the Association, the graduates of 1965, are invited. Rev. Edward Cox, graduate of 1948, is to speak during the evening, the theme of which will be "Decade of Challenge."

Be on the lookout for these alumni, students, and let's make them feel welcome!

HOLY LAND TOUR PLANS DISCLOSED

Final preparations are being made for the study tour of the "Cradle of Civilization" sponsored by Trevecca Nazarene College and Study Abroad, Inc. Dr. Charles Childers, dean of the college, is the director of the tour.

Leaving New York July 27, 1965, the group will tour Rome, Italy; Luxor and Cairo, Egypt; Beirut and Baalbek, Lebanon; Damascus, Syria; Jerusalem, Jordan; Tel Aviv, Israel; Athens, Greece; Paris, France; and London, England. The group will return August 17, 1965.

Costing $1,111, the study tour will last a total of twenty-two days. Included in the fee is transportation by jet, hotel expenses, meals, tips, taxes, and other items of this nature.

This travel program combines recreation, education and inspiration—in an atmosphere of Christian fellowship. Geography, history, art, architecture, and the Bible will fill the days of those who are going on the trip. The group will meet Nazarene missionaries in the Near East—and enjoy a Sunday in Jerusalem. All this will contribute to making the trip a meaningful vacation—and a memory to be treasured for a lifetime.

Dr. Childers, who is now in his eleventh year at Trevecca, has served as division chairman; head of the English Department; professor of English, Greek, Bible, and Christian doctrine; and in his early years at the College as high school principal. He has studied several foreign languages for research purposes, has traveled in most countries of Western Europe, and knows Rome, Paris, and London quite well.

For the first time in history Trevecca will send out a traveling trumpet trio this summer. Members of the trio are (l. to r.) Bob Sutton, Tom Adams, and Cecil Cook.

Trumpet Trio 'Sports' New Look for Touring

By SHARON CALLIHAN

Cecil Cook, a freshman from Marietta, Georgia, is majoring in education and minoring in religion. He is preparing for the ministry. The newly-elected president of next year's sophomore class, he has been active this year in both class work and Christian work. His hobbies are tennis and golf.

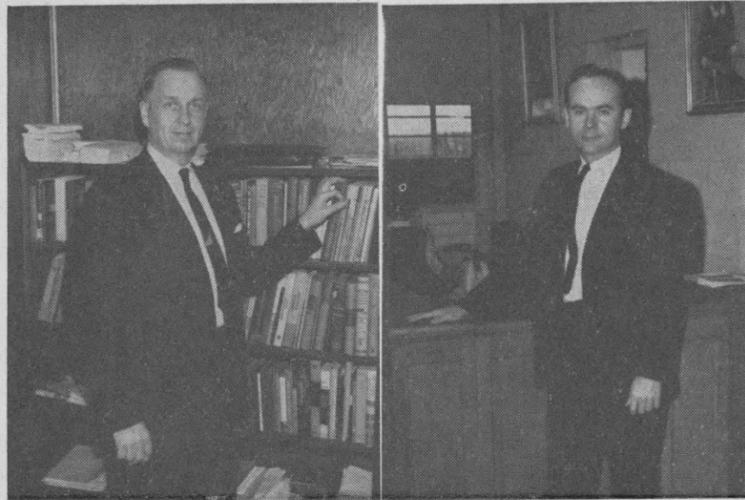

Bobby Sutton, the oldest member of the trio, hails from High Springs, Florida. A philosophy major, he is studying for the ministry, also. He has served this year as president of the Sophomore class. A devoted flying enthusiast, he has his private pilot's license and spends much of his free time "up in the air".

The Trio will be traveling this summer with Larry Sherman, who plays the gospel bells, and Gene Smith, pianist and spokesman for the group.

Tom Adams, who plays the melody for the group, is a freshman from Ft. Lauderdale, Florida. His major is music, and his plans are to be a band director. Besides brass instruments, he plays the piano and guitar. A typical Floridian, his hobbies are water skiing and surfing.

Dr. F. Franklin Wise, (left), and Rev. Bill Jernigan will be leaving on June 9 to accept posts at other colleges. Dr. Wise has currently been serving as Dean of Students and Rev. Jernigan has been assistant librarian.

Dr. Wise, Rev. Jernigan Accept New Positions

By RUTH McDOWELL

Professor William Jernigan, assistant librarian at Trevecca, will be leaving at the close of this school term to become head librarian at the Oral Roberts University in Tulsa, Oklahoma.

Mr. Jernigan graduated from Trevecca in 1957 and from the Nazarene Seminary in 1960, receiving his Master's degree in Library Science from Peabody College in 1961. During his five years at Trevecca he has taught Personal Development, Use of the Library, and Speech.

This year he has been Freshman class sponsor, Darda sponsor, and Library Representative on the CIRP committee to project the next 10 years at TNC. He is presently the president of the Nashville Library Club and of the Nashville Catalogers. Also, he is serving as secretary to the College and University's Division of the Tennessee Library Association.

Mr. Jernigan tells us that the Oral Roberts University, which is due to open in September, has a projected Freshman class of six hundred. Next year's enrollment will also include a first year of Seminary work.

The library where Mr. Jernigan will be located is housed in the Learning Resources Center, a six-story building. It will eventually contain 500,000 books. Fully automated, the library will have the newest learning aids, including closed-circuit television.

Mr. Jernigan feels that he has profited much by his years at Trevecca. He states, "If it had not been for Trevecca and Dr. Mackey, I would not be in library work today."

Dr. Franklin F. Wise, the present Dean of Student Life at Trevecca, is taking a year's leave of absence. Dr. Wise is taking the position as the head of the Christian Education Department at Malone College in Canton, Ohio.

A native of Pennsylvania, Dr. Wise obtained his M.A. and Ph.D. degrees from University of Pittsburgh in Christian Education.

During his eight-year stay at Trevecca Nazarene College, Dr. Wise as Dean of Student Life has served as chairman of the Student Life Council and as member of several other subsidiary committees. Other positions held by Dr. Wise include serving as a class and club sponsor, member of the Administrative Council, and as the faculty sponsor of the CIRP committee.

Dr. Wise has been very interested in political and civic affairs and was a candidate for the state legislature in the 1964 election. He is a member of the College Hill Church of the Nazarene, where he has been very active in serving as director of the Christian Education Department, as a member of the church board, and various other responsibilities.

Betas Cop Three Titles

The Beta society closed one of the finest years ever in TNC athletics by winning the softball title and claiming the first "Triple Crown" since 1960-61. The last team to do it, incidentally, was the Beta Squad of that year. This year's Beta society was grounded firmly by upper-classmen but given spark and impetus by freshmen. The society was represented on the TAA Council by Lloyd Manning, senior basketball star.

This year's athletic domination is due to unusual team effort. The football championship was won after a slow start almost left them out. But they suddenly became organized and each man did his part and they edged the Alphas for the title. Captains of the team were Greg Rickey and Jim Knight. Basketball season saw the Betas run through all opposition undefeated. Jim Knight captained the hardwood team. Then softball season came and on the final day of the season they won the third "gem" of the "Triple Crown". This time they held off a late season Delta bid to win by one game. Larry Knight led in this triumph as captain.

The Betas not only won all three sports, but they filled almost half of each All-Star team. Greg Rickey, Jim Knight, Hollis Kelly, and Bob Thompson were football All-Stars. Greg Rickey and Jim Knight were back-of-the-year and lineman-of-the-year, respectively. Al Baysinger joined Greg Rickey and Jim Knight on the basketball All-Star team. In softball, Jim Knight, Larry Knight, Cal Milam, and Don Webb were honored as All-Stars. Webb was named MVP. In all three sports, Jim Knight was chosen for the Sportsmanship Award.

In addition to these, many others added to the overall season success for the Betas. These men played all three sports: Jim Knight, Larry Knight, Jim Tabers, Sonny Morgan, and Claude Nicholas.

Those participating in two sports were Greg Rickey, Hollis Kelly, Carl Taylor, Don Webb, Paul Johnson, Henry Horton, and Cecil Cook.

Others who added by playing one sport were Roy Galloway, Bob Andress, Rudy Smith, Lloyd Manning, Al Baysinger, and Tom Cook.

In all it was a fine year for TNC athletics. Next year, every team will be out to get the Betas. In the fall draft, the Alphas will have first choice, the Deltas second, and the Betas last. Next year should be even greater than this one.

Webb Voted Top Player As All-Stars Are Named

The T.A.A. announced the election of the softball all-stars at the banquet held on March 15, 1965. This year's dream team is one of the finest ever to be elected. Don Webb, star Beta third baseman was elected as most valuable player, and Jim Knight was chosen as the recipient of the sportsmanship award. The Betas, softball champions this year, place four men on the team, the Deltas, runners-up in a close race, were represented with three men, and the Alphas had two on the team.

Don Webb has been the Beta sparkplug all year and was the main reason for their success this year. Don is called by many the best infielder in the league. He can make the plays with finesse and his ability to make the clutch play is what makes him valuable. His strong arm would make any first baseman look good as he can put the ball where it should be. Don is not only a good fielder but is also a strong hitter. He ranked sixth in the league this year with a .297 average.

No all-star team is complete without Beta catcher Jim Knight. Jim has been largely responsible for the success of the Beta pitching staff this year. He is a hustler behind the plate and keeps his team alert and awake. He knows where to pitch most of the players in the league, and this is a great asset to his pitchers. He has a fairly strong arm, and runners usually think twice before they try to steal a base. Jim went on a hitting rampage about the middle of the season and ended up with a .390 average, which was top in the league.

Cal Milam was the mainstay of the Beta pitching staff this year. He was outstanding in compiling a 4-0 record. Cal relies mainly on a crackling fastball and good control.

Larry Knight is another member of the Beta's top-notch infield. Larry is not real flashy or fancy but has a knack for coming up with the big play when it is needed. Larry is not known for his hitting but managed to win three games this year with key hits.

Doing a consistent job at first base for the Deltas this year has been Mark Greathouse. Greathouse, outstanding player in basketball, added to his laurels in softball. His ability to come up with the big stretch on a wild throw has made him invaluable. Mark didn't hit for a high average, but when he did hit he did so with authority coming up with a .320 average.

The key to Deltas softball championship last year and their close run for the title this year has been Jim Hendershot. Jim compiled a 7-3 record this year and could have done better had it not been for a little hard luck. Although possessing a lively fastball, Jim had a little trouble with control; but when he was right he was hard to hit. Jim also helped the Deltas with his timely hitting.

Barney Baggott, last year's Most Valuable Player, is the third member of the Deltas on the dream team. Barney was captain of the team, and his hustle and pep talks always kept the team alive. He makes all the plays with ease from his shortstop position. He also has great speed on the bases which makes him extra valuable.

George Whitten gave the Alphas near flawless play from his leftfield position. His speed allows him to catch up with any ball hit in his direction. George also has a strong arm which keeps most base-runners from trying to take an extra base on a hit.

Lester Byington was the sparkplug in the Alpha infield this year. Lester covers the hot corners well and has one of the strongest arms in the league. He was at the top most of the year in hitting but slumped toward the end of the year. He ended up with a .307 average.

BOB DUNCAN NAMED TO HEAD ATHLETICS

Bob Duncan, freshman from Indianapolis, Indiana, has been chosen as president of the Trevecca Athletic Association for 1965-66.

Bob, 22-year-old son of Mrs. E. H. Duncan, lists his major as psychology. His past includes graduation from high school in Indianapolis and a period of service in the United States Marines where he attained the rank of squad leader and was a mountain climbing instructor. His four-year hitch took him to Okinawa, Hawaii, and other distant places of interest.

Bob says that to him the key word to success in his new job is organization. He is interested in a committee for each major sport to study ways of improving every aspect of each sport. He also hopes to find new ways to bring more spirit into each game. He feels that a good way to do this is to have a greater participation of students. He also hopes to add more equipment in all sports and is particularly interested in receiving help from alumni who are interested in the athletic program.

Bob feels the importance of this job, but he places this importance third behind God's will for his life, and maintaining his grades.

"Let's all give our new president all of our support to make next year a great success for TNC athletics!" is Bob's advice to T.A.A. supporters.

SPORTS STARS

Jim Knight, Betas' catcher, captured the batting championship this year with a solid .390 batting average. Jim led the league in hits with sixteen, and he was at the plate forty-one times. Knight hit .307 last year, and at the beginning of the season made it his goal to win the championship.

In second place is Wayne Dollar with an average of .364. Mark Greathouse holds down the third position with an average of .320. In fourth place is Lester Byington with a .307 average. Lester was batting champion last year but was unable to keep this place this year. Rounding out the top five is Jim Hendershot, star Delta pitcher. Jim had ten hits in thirty-three times at bat for a .303 average.

The batting averages weren't as high overall this year as they have been in the past. One main reason has been the improvement in pitching this year. Most of the pitchers had good fast pitches and this made it a little tougher on the batters. This is good because it makes for better competition which is something we need.

Betas (8-2) Edge Deltas (7-3) As Close Softball Season Ends

Betas 3—Alphas 2

The Betas took advantage of an unfortunate play to defeat the Alphas 3-2.

The Betas jumped off to a 2-0 lead in the fourth as Claude Nichols tripled Tabers home and Taylor singled up the middle. The fighting Alphas tied the score in the sixth when catcher Jim Knight failed to touch the plate and what would have been a force out at home. Then with men on first and second for the Betas, Alpha outfielder George Whitten and Ray Moore ran together on a fly ball. Whitten held on to the ball, but when Moore fell, Paul Johnson tagged up and started to third. Whitten's hurried throw was wide and Johnson scored. Pitcher Cal Milam held the Alphas in the bottom of the seventh, bringing the Betas record to 7-1. Milam was the winner and Mills, who pitched perhaps his best game so far, took the loss.

Delta 6—Beta 4

The Deltas defeated the leading Betas 6-4 behind the strong pitching of Jim Hendershot and hitting of Mark Greathouse.

Although Hendershot wasn't as sharp as usual, he managed to halt the powerful Beta bats. Greathouse hit a long triple in the third to score a run and send the Deltas off to victory.

Jim Knight hit a homer and Taylor scored twice in the losing cause.

This victory keeps the Delta's hopes alive. The Betas are assured of at least a tie at this point.

Delta 7—Alpha 4

The Deltas kept their slim championship hopes alive by defeating the Alphas 7-4. Rusty Ross, formerly a first baseman, started on the mound for the Alphas and did a creditable job, but poor fielding behind him and failure to come up with the big hit by his teammates led to his first defeat.

The Deltas, on the other hand, took every advantage and gave Hendershot his 7th victory. Minnix, Forman, and Greathouse led the Deltas. George Whitten was outstanding for the Alphas. Only one more game remains on the schedule, and should the victory-hungry Alphas defeat the leading Betas, the protest game of May 13 would be finished. Since the Deltas led in that game, a play-off could be in the future. The Alphas, still winless, would like nothing better than to knock off the high-flying Betas.

Beta 7—Alpha 4

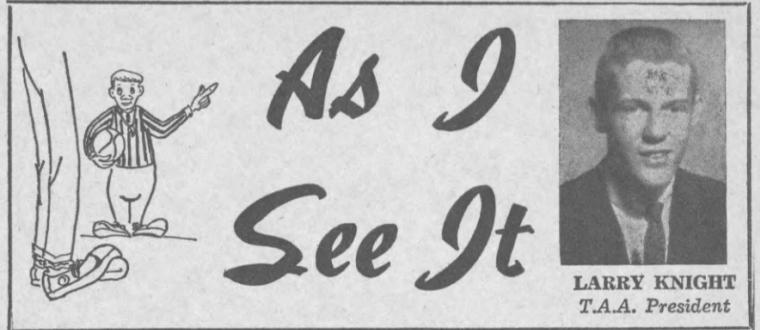

The Betas roared to a 7-0 lead in the first inning and held on to defeat the Alphas 7-4 and wrapped up the softball championship. With four in the first and three in the second for him, Cal Milam set the Alphas down in every inning except the 5th when two walks and two errors gave the Alphas all of their runs.

This is the fifth championship in six seasons for the Betas, losing only softball to the Deltas last year. Their final record is 8-2.

The Betas got their scoring started in the first as Taylor was hit by a pitch, Jim Knight's attempted sacrifice bunt turned into an infield hit, a double steal, a walk, a sacrifice fly by Webb, a base hit by Larry Knight and three walks. Four runs were scored before Taylor was thrown out for the third out. In the second, three hits and two walks added the three that won the championship. Jim Knight had three hits for the victors.

LARRY KNIGHT
T.A.A. President

This year in TNC has been one of continual growth and splendid success in nearly every field of endeavor. Certainly one of the more encouraging accomplishments of the Trevecca Athletic Association in this 1964-65 year has been the good increase in membership, paralleling with the increase in the entire school enrollment. An increase in school spirit, better participation, closer ball games, new equipment and promises for the future have all been products of this great year. This year has only been a stepping-stone toward an even better athletic program for our student body, and as the new TAA president assumes duties, I trust that he will envision the great responsibility that lies ahead for him.

Exactly what part does the TAA play in school life? Do most students know what happens to their money or do they even know what the TAA is? It serves as a source of instruction, entertainment, and exercise. Without an organized association of athletics, there would be no guarantee that we would have a good ball game every Tuesday and Thursday. (Wouldn't that be a dull life!) Each quarter, in the past, the TAA has been granted by the administration a sum of $75.00 to pay for needed equipment. This year, the administration has recognized the growing need for more money, and has increased our finances to $100.00 per quarter. This budget increase plus the $3.00 dues required from each member plus a $300.00 gift for the purchase of football helmets gave the TAA an operating expense of nearly $950.00. Now you may ask, "What happened to all this money?" Here is a rough idea of where the money went: Nearly $85.00 went for the purchase of new football jerseys and almost $160.00 was spent for equipment from Vanderbilt University, including footballs, pads, shoes, etc. New football helmets were purchased at $300.00. Something new this year, and most beneficial, was the securing of outside officials for all contests. This cost our TAA $85.00. In mid-basketball season, the TAA sponsored the film "Play for Keeps" after a Friday night game. Softball equipment such as bats, balls, bases, lime for field, etc., cost about $130.00. The year was wrapped up with the spectacular All-Sports Banquet with Bill Wade as speaker. All of these things cost money, and you have helped to provide them.

The TAA has been led by other officers—Ann Hawkins, Vice-President; Jean Cranshaw, Secretary; Jan Forman, Treasurer; and Jim Hendershot, Reporter. I have enjoyed the duty of being TAA President and the privilege of working on the Student Council. My heart is in the future of TNC athletics. I am sure that next year will be an even greater year under the leadership of our new TAA President.
